Council criticizes report on amalgamating municipalities

A provincial government report dealing with the highly controversial subject of amalgamating municipalities within the region of the City of Edmonton under a metropolitan unitary government was subjected to harsh criticism and scrutiny by city councillors at a council meeting Monday evening.

The report, prepared by the Department of Municipal Affairs and the Department of Education, entitled "The Hamlet of Sherwood Park: A Review of Alternative Forms of Government," purports to deal only with Sherwood Park but in fact suggests numerous alternatives to local government such as in St. Albert. The report was initiated about a year ago when ratepayers in the county of Strathcona requested by petition to the provincial government, a review of their school system.

Among those bodies which received the completed report were the city councils of Edmonton, St. Albert and Sherwood Park, as well as the Edmonton Regional Planning Commission.

Mayor Plain, believing that the report relied on assertions put forward in a document regarding amalgamation about three years ago by the former mayor of Edmonton, stated that council should draft its own "comprehensive and compact" report dealing with both the positive and negative aspects of the provincial government report.

"One can now see that St. Albert and other areas surrounding Edmonton had better say their piece," said Plain. "It is time we put it in written form to debunk the number of myths regarding our city's position on amalgamation."

Mayor Plain's criticism of the report centred on what he called a poor identification of the benefits of local government, unqualified sources, and an impracticable approach to a project which would involve major financial and administrative problems.

The report recommends that all utilities and public transportation be under the administration of one central government, i.e. the City of Edmonton. Local government would also make way for one governing body of the proposed city state resulting in the reduction of aldermen elected by a particular area and the consequent breakdown of "close to the Please Turn to Page 2

Land owners will be hit by increase in taxes

Owners of commercial, industrial and vacant residential land in the City of St. Albert will face an increase in taxes this year due to an 80 percent increase in the School Foundation requisition from $132,279 in 1976; $238,641 in 1977.

The increase in the School Foundation requisition is due to a rise in the City of St. Albert's equalized assessment which may in turn be accounted for due to a dramatic change in land values between 1974 and 1975. The equalized land assessment for 1977 is based on commercial land sales in 1975.

As a result of this increase in the city's equalized assessment, the live assessment will be less than the equalized for the first time in many years. The reason the live assessment will be less is because the assessment of land has not been keeping up with market values.

District 6 students to be accommodated in District 3

A persuasive presentation by Trustee Don Munro on Wednesday night enabled him to wrest approval of his fellow trustees on four out of five recommendations from the Education Committee. The recommendations were brought forward at the regular Wednesday night meeting of the District 6 Protestant School Board at the board office on Sir Winston Churchill Drive.

The complex question of student accommodation during the 1977-78 school year was the first area touched upon by the committee's recommendation. The problem arises from the delay in the construction of the West Grandin School, due to a dispute between the board and the City of St. Albert over the city's imposition of a development agreement on the board. Because the school may not be available, alternate accommodation in other school districts must be found.

Two accommodation alternatives were scrutinized by the Education Committee. The Catholic School District in St. Albert had reported that 10 classroom spaces can be made available in their jurisdiction, at a rental charge of $2,000 per classroom. The alternative would be accommodation within the Please Turn to Page 2

Chamber brochure cost called ridiculous

Roger Lemieux of St. Albert spoke out against the cost of the city's information guide produced by the St. Albert Chamber of Commerce, at a chamber meeting last Wednesday afternoon.

Lemieux stated it is the general opinion of the city's merchants that the guide is "ridiculously expensive" and questioned the enormity of the cost in the neighborhood of $800 per page. He added that the real estate businesses in town have offered a better brochure about the City of St. Albert at one-third the cost of the chamber's guide, and which apparently "serves the same purpose."

The chamber's executive proposed to gather all necessary information on their guide for the next meeting.

Lorne Akins principal, Mr. Barry Findlater was temporarily replaced last Friday by Sheila Easson, a grade 8 student at the school. As part of Education Week, the students were allowed to try out being 'Teacher for a Day.' Much to the surprise of the administration, Sheila asked if she could be principal for a day. After some consideration and planning, Mr. Findlater decided that it would be a good idea. A schedule of meetings, planning parent interviews and handling the ongoing problems of staff and students kept Sheila busy.

Edmonton Public School system. At their meeting last week, the Edmonton board approved the allocation of 13 rooms at an unknown location for use by District 6, should they so choose.

However, the Education Committee decided in its deliberations that the arrangement with District 3 would be the least detrimental to the students involved, and more conducive to smooth administration. The committee also felt that children at the Kindergarten level would be the most suitable group for accommodation outside the district, as their classes are largely self-contained, not requiring the use of laboratory, library or other similar facilities.

In light of these facts, and acting on the committee's recommendation, Mr. Munro moved that District 6 enter into an agreement with District 3 to rent up to 10 classrooms at a cost of $2,000 per classroom. The motion carried.

EQUIPMENT PURCHASES TO REMAIN A BUDGET CONSIDERATION

The issue of the purchase of capital equipment was the only one of the committee's recommendations which was amended before approval. Mr. Munro explained in presenting the recommendation that the committee felt some formula or procedure should be arrived at by the board for the purchase of capital equipment. At present, the individual school submits a request for specific items, the administration establishes the priority of the request, and makes a recommendation to the board. The committee felt that although there is some fluctuation in the type, number and cost of these purchases from year to year, that some formula could be established which could be indexed to the rate of inflation. Thus a percentage increase could be established by the board from year to year.

Mr. Munro pointed out that some schools use equipment lists to record requests, but he remarked that the flexibility of the Department of Education in this regard could lead to the purchase of non-essential equipment. He therefore moved that "the board approve an allocation of $60,000 in the 1977 budget for educational capital equipment."

At this juncture, Mr. MacFarlane asked if the Finance Committee had been consulted, as the establishing of the $60,000 figure seemed to be in their province. Mr. Webber asked if the amount was to be subject to budget consideration, and also remarked that the use of equipment lists was necessary so someone can oversee the purchase of capital equipment. He said he felt the board "would be abdicating its responsibility" if they didn't do this. In answer to Mr. Webber's question regarding the stipulation of "budget consideration," Mr. Munro said that the figure of $60,000 should stand, and that any adjustments should be made in the area of renovations. Mr. Webber remarked that renovations and capital equipment were the only areas left in the budget allowing any flexibility, and that the committee recommendation would leave only renovations as an adjustable feature. Mr. Webber therefore moved that the motion be amended to provide for budget considerations. Mr. Webber's amendment carried, as did Mr. Munro's motion.

The motion as amended having been passed, Supt. Elmer Gish asked if the board would authorize the administration to spend up to 50% of the allotted amount, so that programs in urgent need of certain capital equipment could proceed to purchase the items without further delay. Chairman Webber so moved and the motion carried.

REMEDIAL READING TEACHER

Next in line for board approval was the appointment of a remedial reading teacher at the junior high level. The request for the appointment arose after a diagnostic review of reading problems in junior high schools revealed that approximately 20 students would benefit significantly from short-term individual assistance. This kind of special remediation for secondary students is not available through grants from the Educational Opportunity Fund or the Learning Disability Fund. The district has no such program at the junior high level that will remedy these problems. A specialist teacher is required who can implement individual programs.

In light of this information, Mr. Munro moved that the board approve the committee's recommendation "that the board authorize the superintendent to employ a teacher to provide remedial reading instruction in junior high school for a period of up to three months during the current school term." Trustee Murdo MacFarlane expressed doubts as to the efficacy of such a program, but said he would not vote against it. Supt. Gish remarked that a similar program had been used at the elementary level with success. The motion carried.

The purchase of a school bus was the next item on Mr. Munro's list of the committee's recommendations. A study done by the superintendent revealed a number of advantages to such a purchase. Under the present contract busing, curricular and extra-curricular field trips is restricted in time. The contracted company, Briggs Ltd., can accommodate these trips from 9:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. only. If the district owned their own bus, this constraint would be removed, and maximum advantage could be extracted from the trips. Experience in other districts has shown that a school bus can be operated for approximately one-half the cost of using a contract bus, providing that existing staff do the driving. Administrators of the Catholic school district in St. Albert are satisfied with their two district-owned buses, which are providing economical and convenient service. In addition, if they purchased the bus, District 6 would be reimbursed with respect to all operating costs, including the driver, arising from elementary Outdoor Education activities under the district's Educational Opportunities Fund Outdoor Education Program.

Education Program.

BUS TO BE PURCHASED

Mr. Munro commented that the district's Outdoor Education program was "second to none," and so moved approval of the committee's recommendation "that the Board approve a special capital equipment allocation of $8,000 under the 1977 budget for the purpose of purchasing one district school bus holding 66 passengers and having power steering which meets the mechanical requirements of the semi-annual inspection for school buses under section 6.5.6 of the regulations for the operation of school buses. The motion carried.

MORE EMPHASIS COMING ON CURRENT EVENTS

The last of the committee's recommendations concerned the teaching of current events in the district. The committee's recommendation reads as follows: "The board recognizes that knowledge of contemporary affairs is an important aspect of the total education of children, and encourages teachers to include local, provincial, national and international current events as a relevant component of all subject areas at every grade level in a form that is adopted to the understanding and interests of the students."

Mr. Munro explained that the committee felt that current events should not be the sole responsibility of the Social Studies department, and that contemporary developments in any field should be explored in whatever class to which that field relates. He then moved approval of the committee's statement. The motion carried.

people's representation.

"We begin to see problems apparent in the credibility of the analysis," said Plain, pointing out topographical and financial barriers to the recommendations regarding the amalgamation of St. Albert's utilities and public transportation system with that of Edmonton. He also questioned how St. Albert could benefit from such a project, adding that amalgamation would merely destroy St. Albert's residential planning system which the Edmonton Regional Planning Commission currently has on file.

Alderman Fyfe said she was surprised that a government report would dispense with competition and free enterprise between two growing cities.

Alderman Smith claimed that the report ignores a person's right to choose the style of community in which that person desires to live. She added that St. Albertans pay higher taxes for the benefits of living in an independent and smaller community.

Alderman Breadner expressed his astonishment that a government report would consider the Restricted Development Area between Edmonton and St. Albert "of no major significance." He said he was dismayed that the province would overlook alternatives to the proposed metropolitan unitary form of government.

City council decided to collect recommendations and criticisms of the report which will be presented in document form to the Minister of Municipal Affairs.

In the City Manager's monthly report to council he states that "the last general assessment (in St. Albert) was made nine years ago and the assessment ratio (ratio of assessed value to market price) is way out of balance."

Because of the discrepancy between the live assessment and the equalized assessment of commercial, industrial and vacant residential land, the city will have to raise the mill rates on these properties to make up the $106,362 difference to be paid into the provincial School Foundation.

Discussing the matter at a city council meeting Monday evening, Mayor Plain described the increase in taxes as a "rude awakening" for small businesses and industrial components which must bear the brunt of it. He said that because the City of St. Albert is being taxed for educational purposes by the provincial government, any owner of land in the city for non-public purposes would be subject to the same type of tax issue.

Alderman Smith called the taxation system "inequitable" in that commercial land holdings, which the city desires most to stimulate, suffers most because of the system. She requested that a brief be prepared for the provincial government describing the implications of the system, recommending that such taxation be carried out on a "regional systematic basis rather than a haphazard sales basis" which may not be representative of land use values.

City Manager Robert Byron stated that he hopes to do a general assessment of the municipality over the next three years, and to continue this practice over every three year period hence.

Mayor Plain discusses future city developments with C chamber Mayor Richard Plain addressed St. Albert Chamber of Commerce members concerning future developments within the city at a chamber meeting last Wednesday afternoon.

He opened his address by referring to 1980 estimates of what kind and size of commercial facilities will be required by the city with respect to potential markets at that time. The estimates, which were taken from one of the city's planning guides, were described by Plain as "conservative" but which nonetheless warranted confidence. He also referred to the estimates as planning guidelines rather than projections.

Plain also discussed the Abbey Glen development agreement which was terminated about a year ago when developers asked for extra concessions from the city. Plain explained that these concessions would have involved major subsidization by the City of St. Albert and which city council in turn refused.

"We are now actively negotiating with developers to develop 160,000 square feet of commercial area in the downtown city core," said Mayor Plain. "The development will contain a major food floor of approximately 38,000 square feet, theatres and restaurants, with room for additional space."

Plain stipulated that a major department store would not be built in the downtown core according to present plans, but would be located at the designated regional shopping centre site on Highway 2.

The plans, said Mayor Plain, will mean rapid development in the downtown area, but which he hopes will not drastically effect the present businesses in that area. "We are looking for a strong new and old downtown core," he said.

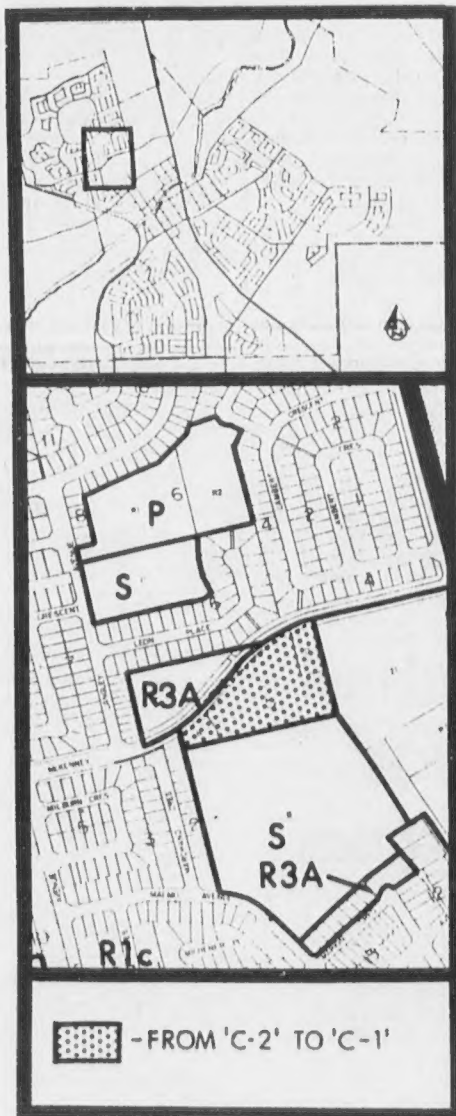

Plain further explained that although a major food store in the downtown area will undoubtedly effect the amount of downtown traffic, "transportation problems will not occur in the area according to our consultants. Please Turn to Page 4

Provincial Grants to municipality loosen the strings attached

Grants totalling $60.1 million and made unconditional to municipalities as announced in Friday's budget, are designed to help municipalities set their own priorities. Municipal Affairs Minister Dick Johnston told the legislature. Municipalities have been pressing for grants without strings attached.

Three million dollars will go into a growth fund to aid municipalities whose growth rate is over two percent over the past two years. Normal growth is calculated at two percent over 1975-76 and any increase above that figure is considered extraordinary and receives a grant of $40 per capita.

St. Albert will receive $188,650 extra on the special growth grant, plus the 10 percent across-the-board increase in unconditional grants to municipalities this year.

In addition to the growth factor grants a second special element in the municipal assistance is the removal of conditions from law enforcement grants to urban municipalities. About $17.5 million in such grants will be disbursed to Alberta cities in 1977. In addition various crime prevention programs will be funded directly by the Solicitor General's Department to an amount of $350,000, and a new subsidy of $30,000 will aid smaller police forces to send members for training courses at the Canadian Police College.

This year law enforcement grants are not exempted from the 10 percent restraint guidelines set by the government, and grants are increasing by eight percent across the board. Solicitor General Roy Farran expressed satisfaction with the law enforcement grant program which, since its inception in 1975, has seen grants increase dramatically by 22 percent from the $12 million figure in 1975. Farran said he had responded to the concerns of municipalities over local autonomy, but warned that he would be keeping a watchful eye on the policing situation throughout the province, and will ensure that the ratio in Edmonton and Calgary remains at 550:1.

Municipal Affairs Minister Dick Johnston pointed out in concluding his budget statement that, according to latest data available, the per capita provincial and local government spending in Alberta are the highest in Canada. Also, he said, the proportion of local government revenue derived from all grants is well above the national average.

District 6 School Board Briefs

At the regular meeting on Wednesday night Chairman Bill Webber reported to the District 6 Board that correspondence from ASTA solicitors notified the board that the new planning act to be introduced in the Provincial Legislature may bring changes of benefit to the district in its dispute with the city over the development agreement for the West Grandin School. He also noted that the board's solicitors had written the city's solicitors, requesting them to expedite their deliberations on the development agreement, but no response has yet been received.

Mr. Webber moved approval of the audited 1976 financial statement. The motion carried.

Thursday, March 17 was established as the date of the special board meeting on the 1977 budget.

Mr. Webber moved that the matter of policy on student expulsion and suspension be tabled for further consideration. The motion carried.

Supt. Elmer Gish submitted a recommendation that "Miss S. J. Huston's administrative designation be changed from Acting District Assistant Principal to District Assistant Principal." Mr. MacFarlane moved acceptance on the recommendation and the motion carried.

Dr. Cuts reported that a group of students at Paul Kane won the Provincial Curling Championships. Dr. Cuts moved that a letter of congratulation be sent to the girls and their coach, Mr. Chorney.

Mr. Webber reported that the city had invited students from grades 1-12 in both school districts to enter a contest for the design of a new city logo.

A motion by Mr. Munro on a recommendation that the city be given permission to locate a creative playground on the Sir Alexander MacKenzie School grounds as shown in an earlier submission was approved by the board. The Parks and Recreation Creative Playground Steering Committee had recommended the school as a site for a playground, but the city first had to get board approval.

Supt. Elmer Gish made a recommendation to the board in regard to tuition support for university courses. According to its contract with the A.T.A., if the board does not grant two percent of the sabbatical leaves recommended, some of the funds not utilized will go to pay tuition fees of undergraduate teachers in summer school or evening courses. The recommendation reads: "that during 1977, the board authorize the superintendent to approve the payment of university fees under clause 16.11 of the Teachers Collective Agreement, up to a maximum allocation of $3,000, and if this total amount is employed, further applications for payment of tuition fees be submitted to the board for approval." Webber moved that the recommendation be accepted, and the motion carried.

The balmy weather experienced in the province during last month was a boon to winter-weary residents, but farmers are viewing it with some forboding.

Last fall's bumper crop, aided by ideal summer growing conditions, may not be repeated this year as the lack of substantial snowfall means that less water is being stored in the soil. Thus, seed planted in the spring will be dependent upon rainfall. Rain after seeding is critical to the health of the crop.

Although the citizenry might enjoy temperate weather, it is cool wet conditions that are needed for crops. Weather that is too hot and dry will foster the growth of grasshoppers, the devastating scourge of emerging crops. Luckily however, entomologists say that infestations of the pest are expected to be lower than in 1976. This is due to the fact that last year's cool weather delayed hatching. In addition, disease in the grasshopper population decreased their numbers.

According to Dr. N. D. Holmes, head of crop entomology at the Lethbridge federal agricultural research station, the drop in grasshoppers in 1976 "continues the decline that began after the peak in 1974."

He added that newly hatched grasshoppers will begin to appear in early May, which is the time to initiate control measures.

An entomologist at the federal research station at University of Saskatchewan, Stuart Gage, says the drier-than-usual winter has killed many fall-laid grasshopper eggs by drying them out, further reducing the prospect of infestation in 1977.

In Manitoba, the only problem foreseen is the possibility of a light infestation in the Red River Valley.

Mr. Gage did predict however, that continuing dry weather throughout the year might result in a burgeoning grasshopper population in 1978. He said the area to be watched this year is between the North and South Saskatchewan Rivers from the Alberta Boundary east to a north-south line through Swift Current and North Battleford.

WEATHER PREDICTION

The next five years will be dry, according to Ed Stashko, chief meteorologist with Alberta's forest service. He forecasts unprecedented low rainfall throughout Alberta during the next few years, based on yearly precipitation records.

Mr. Stashko said he felt the possibility of dust bowl conditions is high. He estimated the Edmonton area will receive well below 15 inches of precipitation this year, reaching a low of 11 inches in 1978 or 1979.

The prospect of large grasshopper populations brought on by the dry conditions has fired the search for a machine or machines that will harvest the insects live or kill them mechanically. Saskatchewan's Back the Farm Foundation has sponsored a contest for the design of such a machine. The foundation, at Davidson, Sask., has had only one response so far.

The competition was started two years ago, on the heels of concern about the use of pesticide to control the insects. According to the

Hike on fuel bills to be announced

Albertans will know by the end of the week what amount of increase they can expect to find on their natural gas bills in the future. The 1977 support price for natural gas will be announced by Utilities Minister Allan Warrack during his remarks on the budget speech later this week.

Without knowing the support price, a natural gas fuel bill cannot be calculated. Under the Natural Gas Price Protection Plan, the provincial government has subsidized the price of natural gas to consumers, in the amount of $700 million since the plan was initiated in 1973.

The subsidized wellhead price to consumers has been foundation, there is a ready market in Japan for frozen grasshoppers, which after being prepared in a soya sauce-like liquid, are considered a delicacy.

Saskatchewan trade and commerce officials say the Japanese are interested in the province's grasshopper harvest as their supply from Korea is unstable.

The foundation feels the lack of response to their contest in the last few years is due to the insignificant grasshopper populations during the same period.

56 cents per thousand cubic feet or MCF.

However, since last fall, consumers have been warned that the government could not continue providing subsidies at that rate because of significant increases in the negotiated price of gas. Albertans were advised to anticipate price hikes.

Last Friday night, in his budget address, Provincial Treasurer Merv Leitch announced that the natural gas protection plan was being augmented by $35 million, to shield Albertans from the full affects of international gas prices. However, he made no mention of the extent of the support price hike.

Science Fair worth more help

March 9, 1977 saw the first Science Fair for Separate School District #6 in St. Albert. Full honours should go to the two teacher organizers, Lawrence Kenakin and Pete Dukovac for a tremendous job done at Lorne Akins School.

These following suggestions for improvement are mainly to enlist more community aid for such a large task for another year. This aid requires more time and money to spend on the Science Fair.

First of all, I'd like to see the organizer of such a big affair have a day free of teaching in order to organize and direct the whole operation. It's a more professional and efficient way of operating.

More prize money, especially for elementary exhibitors could be made available by our school board. Eight dollars split between two hard working kids who won first prize seems insignificant. (It hardly pays expenses!)

After noting that the judges were hard pressed to complete their task by 9:30 p.m., and the children were quite weary by then, I'd suggest getting more judges so that no judge has to go over more than 10 exhibits. The ideal judge ratio is one judge for five exhibits. (Did four judges actually screen 70 exhibits that night?)

Also, if the host school was open the evening before the Science Fair, parents could bring their own children's projects to the school, instead of busy teachers squeezing in hasty trips before school and during recess break. (Kudos to the parent who made about six trips in her own vehicle to bring projects from one school!)

If St. Albert wants to reap the full educational harvest from a District Science Fair, a few more dollars well spent would help grease the machinery.

Protests raising drinking age

In reference to your article on page 7 of the March 9th edition of The Gazette, I would like to say a few words on behalf of a few ADULTS who, by the way, do have the right to vote in this province on any plebiscite of provincial significance.

Here is a fact that may prove interesting to some responsible people of this city. Don't be so quick to judge those of us who are between the ages of 18 and 20. I suggest that rather than waste time with benign petitions, your organization should go down to the ALCB and see who is doing the bootlegging for minors in this city. I know from experience that the easiest guy to get to bootleg for a youngster is some guy over 25 who is assured of a few bucks on the side for this benevolent contribution to youth.

Irresponsible acts are committed by people of all ages and of all social backgrounds; true, there are irresponsible acts done by "kids" between the ages of 18 and 20 but none of us are infallible, right?

According to the article, "A Red Deer man circulated a petition in his block met with only two negative responses..." I wonder, how many people from 18 and 20 own a home on this man's block anyway? Why not ask them?

In closing I should like to say that if I am voting and making the same wrong choices as everyone else, I think I can drink just like the next joe can. If I fight for this country of ours in the Armed Forces, I think I should be able to have a beer like anyone else.

And if I pay the same taxes as a man of 45 who makes the same as I do and has no dependants, I'd like to be able to go to the Bruin and say hi to him! Is that a heck of a lot to ask?

Cable cheats beware: the search is on !

Residents of St. Albert who make illicit use of cable-vision wires are advised that they can be prosecuted under the Criminal Code of Canada. Capital Cable TV has initiated a search for cable cheats, who tap the wires without paying.

In a recent statement, Capital Cable President James Shaw stated that the company was aware of the many thieves, and that they are using equipment to track down illegal users.

"But searching out cable cheats costs money, and makes it more expensive for the people who buy our service," said Mr. Shaw. He added that "many of our subscribers feel it is unfair that they should pay while others don't. Sometimes people even ring up and tell us that so-and-so is tapping the service illegally."

Mr. Shaw said it is not difficult for people to tap junction boxes in apartment blocks, or terminals outside their homes.

"People go out with their ladder, and they just climb up it and hook themselves in," he said. "In apartment blocks we find people will connect up several apartments until they locate the terminal for their own."

"You even find that one guy will take the service, then share the service and the payments with the house or apartment next door.

That's illegal too."

Said Mr. Shaw: "We don't want to criminalize people or anything. But people who take our service without paying for it are in effect stealing from us and from those that do."

"So when we catch them, we take them to court. We have several cases pending at this moment."

"And I'd like to warn anybody who is taking the service illegally that they are committing a criminal offence under the Criminal Code of Canada."

He adds: "It seems strange that people would be prepared to risk being labelled a criminal for the mere $7 a month it costs for a cable connection."

The Law and You

The second in the libraries series was conducted by Heather Lamoureux, a lawyer practicing with Shtobsky and Company in Edmonton.

She introduced the meeting to the services available through the Family Court Conciliation Service. Here a counsellor will help the couple to discuss their problem and see if a divorce or separation can be avoided. Although this is a free service, the couple must be referred to the service by a practicing lawyer. Most lawyers are in trying to prevent a divorce if at all possible.

But, if a divorce is unavoidable, there comes the problem of dividing up the assets of the family. And as Mrs. Lamoureux points out, it is a problem. With so many women working, the trend is for the husbands salary to be used for the major purchases; house, boats, trailer, stereo, TV etc. The wife's salary tends to be used for groceries, household needs, day care, if children are involved, and so on. What this means in law is the wife has no claim on any of the goods.

Her contribution to the family is not recognized. The fact without her work these other goods could not be; cuts no ice. Legally they belong to the husband. However, if the husband has ever said the item is a gift, then it belongs to the wife. The opposite also applies, if the wife's salary pays for the major investments and they were purchased in her name, then she is the owner.

One way out of the problem, which has to be done before the marriage breakdown, is to have a true joint-checking account from which all bills and payments can be made. If the wife writes some of the cheques for the payments, it adds strength to the argument the goods were purchased in common.

Mrs. Lamoureux then traced the history of how a judicial separation and divorce would proceed.

The visits to the lawyer, the visits to the court, and the aftermath, the judgments and awards, if any. She noted the courts have the last say in any financial arrangements which may have been made earlier by the parties if they see fit. She mentioned a case where the judge raised the child support payments before granting the divorce. His decision is final.

When the amount is established, the husband must pay it. How to ensure the payments are resumed if they stop, by obtaining a court order, was explained.

The talk was informative and appreciated by those in attendance.

SABRE SAMPLINGS

On Saturday, March 12, the squadron band and color party travelled to CFB's Griesbach and Namao, to take part in the opening of the CFB Edmonton winter carnival. The parade commenced in Griesbach and made a tour of the base. When the parade was finished at Griesbach, a bus was furnished for the cadets and they travelled to Namao for the second half of the parade.

At Namao, the parade

wound around the barrack blocks, after which a meal was furnished in the combined mess, while the floats were being judged. When the cadets finished their lunch, they received a tour of one of the Hercules transport aircraft, before returning to St. Albert. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed themselves, even though it was work, in a way.

Thursday, March 17, the entire squadron will be paying a visit to the brand new hangar and overhaul facility belonging to Wardeir at the International Airport, as well as getting a chance to scrutinize a Boeing 747. It sounds like a pretty good evening.

Provincial Air Cadet League selection boards are drawing near, as of now only 10 days until the boards convene so 10 cadets are busy working on uniforms, trying to memorize names of government and political leaders, and generally in a state of total upheaval, as is the case before all selection boards, it seems.

Our squadron commanding officer, Major A. Maybee, became a major effective Thursday, March 10. I believe. Congratulations sir, but are you sure those stripes are on straight!

Ribbon cutting ceremony for Bertha Kennedy School held

Tuesday, March 8 marked a happy occasion in the annals of School District 3, when Bertha Kennedy Community Core School celebrated its official opening. Local dignitaries, board members, teachers, and students all participated in the proceedings, as an interested audience of parents and guests looked on. Principal Ross Johnson was the evening's master of ceremonies.

The honoured guest of the evening was Bertha Kennedy herself. Having taught in Alberta since 1928, Mrs. Kennedy is an appropriate choice to lend her name to an educational facility. A native of Lancashire, England, she came to Canada in 1921, attended Normal School in Calgary in 1926-27, and took her first teaching position in Strome. From there she went to Bruce, Guibault, St. Albert, Volmer and Dunvegan Yards, teaching grades 1 - 9. In 1953 she began teaching in St. Albert at the old brick school. Since 1957, she taught at the Mission Park School, Father Jan and Albert Lacombe until her retirement in 1974.

Over the years, Mrs. Kennedy has been heavily involved in many aspects of community life, and her choirs and music programs have enriched the social and cultural life of St. Albert.

The ceremonies were fittingly begun with a presentation by the Albert Lacombe School choir. One of its members extended best wishes to the students of Bertha Kennedy, and wished them luck in their new school. A selection of five songs followed, "Sunshine, Lollipops and Roses," "Under the Sun," "Alberta," "Hosanna" and "The Small World."

Following the choir's melodious contribution, Mr. Steve Sieben spoke, as chairman of the District 3 school board. He welcomed guests and expressed appreciation to those whose efforts helped put the building together. Included in his thanks were the ratepayers, who provided funds by supporting the money bylaw. Mr. Sieben introduced his fellow board members and members of the district's central staff, and commented that both students and teachers seemed happy with their new school.

POETIC TRIBUTE

An introduction and tribute to Mrs. Kennedy was then given by Father Joly and Mr. Real Binette. Father Joly amused the audience with a touching and comic tribute in verse, while on a more serious note, Mr. Binette attested to the fact that Mrs. Kennedy had always brought a combination of the religious and academic aspects to her teaching. He then presented a portrait of Mrs. Kennedy, which is to be installed in the school.

As the subject of these tributes, Mrs. Kennedy said she was honoured to have a school named after her, and went on to thank "everyone who helped her along the way." A bouquet of roses was presented to her by two young ladies from the school.

Ted Baldwin, secretary-treasurer of School District 3 gave a brief history of the school, relating that the board had applied for it in the spring of 1975. It cost over $1 million, and is situated on five acres of land. He commented to the audience that "This is your investment in St. Albert, and your investment in your children." He then introduced the building's architect, Mr. George Chernenko of McIntosh, Workun and Chernenko. Mr. Chernenko acknowledged his associates in the project, paid tribute to the contractors and District Superintendent Bill Zielinski and Mr. Baldwin.

Following a reading by Father Joly, Trustee Ann Smith introduced her brother Cameron Ross. Mr. Ross was attending on behalf of MP Marcel Lambert. Mr. Ross explained that Mr. Lambert was unable to attend because of his government duties, and presented the school with a Canadian flag and a book, "Canada's Parliament," on Mr. Lambert's behalf.

Trustee Peter Freeman then introduced MLA Ernie Jamison. Mr. Jamison brought congratulations from Julian Koziak, minister of education, and spoke of the inspiration that the school's students could take from the name of their new school. He stated that Mrs. Kennedy's name on the school should motivate the students to extra effort, on their own and the school's behalf, as she had always brought extra effort to her teaching and music. He commented that she set "a fine example" of fairness, kindness, and the honest effort to succeed. Mr. Jamison then cut the ribbon to open the school and presented Principal Ross Johnston with a painting of an Alberta scene, and an Alberta flag for the school.

Following the ceremony, coffee and cakes were served in the lunchroom, after which a reception was held at the Club Mocombo.

Residential window cleaning business opens in St. Albert

A new service is available in St. Albert and to some homeowners it's high time. Ian and Pauline Morrissey offer aid for the harried homemaker to whom window cleaning is an all-too-easily postponed chore. The Morrisseys run a residential window cleaning business and will clean all the windows in an average sized house for $25-28. For a larger house the maximum charge is $30.

The service entails taking all the windows from the frames and cleaning both sides completely, then re-installing them. Mr. Morrissey thinks the service will be a boon to working wives, older folks, the ill or disabled and those who just plain don't like doing windows. He adds that he will lower his rates for disabled or older people who can't afford the whole amount. He reports his customers to date seem well pleased with the work done.

The Morrisseys have lived in St. Albert for two years, and originally hailed from Newcastle, England. Their company is bonded and insured. To enlist their services phone Maggie Window Cleaning 458-0113.

Around Town

Five wet boys were clamouring for attention down at the Gazette Monday afternoon, after one of the boys, Robert Ricard, had been allegedly thrown into waist deep water by a couple of local bullies. Stuart Scriven and Eugene Ricard helped pull Robert out of the muck and ice cold water down by the highway bridge. Assisting on the 'rescue' was Robert Perreault and Ken Kowalshyn. Latest developments are that the boys are home drying out.

EDUCATION COMMENT

If Lorne Akins was going to have a Principal for a Day, Ronda Ulrich decided that the school should also have a Vice Principal for a Day. Consequently, Mr. Buccini was asked to relinquish his office duties to allow Ronda to get a taste of what life is like behind an administrator's desk. Ronda made up a newsletter for the teachers, did a little bookwork and attended the meetings with the principal.

Essays show young students ideas

Three winners have been announced in the province-wide essay contest sponsored by the Provincial Education Week Committee.

Winner for the northern part of the province is Teresa Atkinson, a grade 9 student at St. Mary's School from Goodfare in Beaverlodge Roman Catholic Separate District #68. Central winner is Lynn Thiels of Benalto, a grade 7 student at Sylvan Lake School, County of Red Deer. Kathy Smith, a grade 9 student at Olds Junior/Senior High School in Olds, County of Mountain View, is the winner for the southern part of the province.

Mary Layman, chairperson for the 1977 Education Week Committee said the three winning essays were chosen from submissions from all over the province. The essay topic was "Can I really be what I want to be?" and the contest was open to all junior high students in Alberta.

Teachers, administrators and school trustees were involved in the selection process, finally submitting four essays from each part of the province. The final decision of the three winners from the 12 finalists was made by three newspaper reporters, Brian Tucker of the Edmonton Journal, Dan Smith of the Calgary Alberta and Vicki Barnett of the Calgary Herald.

(Kathy Smith, a 14 year old grade nine student at Olds wrote this winning essay).

"CAN I REALLY BE WHAT I WANT TO BE?"

"What do you want to be when you grow up? A fireman? A nurse? Or perhaps you'd like to be a truck driver, or a waitress, or maybe a ..."

When we were small and innocent, very trusting and terribly gullible, we were being continually bombarded by the horrible threat of having to be something when we grew up. Having to be a fireman or a nurse. Having to be something. But never once, in our years of innocence and gullibility, did they ask us who we wanted to be. Maybe we should start asking. You see, you can't be anything you want. Some people make it as doctors or pilots while others don't. You can't always be what you want to be but you can be who you want to be. You can be a person who is kind and gentle or cruel and heartless. So, "Who do you want to be when you grow up?"

(This winner was submitted by Teresa Atkinson, aged 14 and a grade nine student at St. Mary's School in Goodfare.)

"CAN I REALLY BE WHAT I WANT TO BE?"

In today's society, a question like that can be answered in seconds. Our 20th century teen-agers are all supposed to be successful rich people, adolescents being molded into the image of a happy man. Whether we want it or whether we don't, it doesn't really matter to the generation before us. They just want for us what they never had. We are supposed to live our lives in the images of our fathers and mothers, look good in the eyes of their business associates, be a little richer, and classier than our peers.

This question that is answered so easily has no meaning to the ordinary or domestic adolescent, but to some who have the strength or the will, and the courage to break away from this age old tradition of, "like father, like son, only a little better, so as to uphold the good family name," can go out into a miserable world, everything and everybody has millions of doubles, replicas of themselves, and they can be an individual, or themselves.

Can I really be what I want to be? If someone asked me this question, I would have to say no. There is just too much pressure for some, or most, which comes from our older generation, and there is no chance for development of yourself into what you want to be.

4yr. extension for compensatory education

A four year extension of the compensatory component of the Educational Opportunities Fund was confirmed today by Education Minister Julian Koziak. Funding of two million dollars will be provided for the 1977-78 school year.

Nineteen school jurisdictions, most of them north of Edmonton, now operate 40 compensatory projects ranging in size from $3,500 to $300,000 for the school year. All projects provide extra classroom assistance to equalize opportunities for culturally, socially or environmentally disadvantaged students.

The programs provide reading resource rooms, native-speaking aides in primary classrooms in some northern communities, and the special instructional materials for individuals and small groups.

"The external evaluation completed last summer concluded that 'the initial three year experimental compensatory education effort in the Province of Alberta has been a success,' Mr. Koziak said. 'This is supported by findings in evaluations made annually within each project," he continued.

Eligibility of pupils for this program is based on a low achievement due to social, cultural and economic conditions. Projects starting this September will be expected to emphasize basic skills, particularly in the language arts. At the secondary school level, attention may also be given to personal and vocational skills and attitudes to prepare young people for adult life.

To be eligible for compensatory funding, a school jurisdiction must have a per-pupil equalized assessment of less than $6,000. The provincial average of such assessments is approximately $12,000.

Inner city schools in Edmonton and Calgary with large concentrations of non-English speaking immigrant children and other pupils with learning deficiencies will have project support up to $500,000 per year.

Details of the program policies and eligibility will be provided to all school systems by the Educational Opportunities Fund office in the near future.

Dr. Merchant to address parents

By Peter G. Jonkman
The "Parent Program Committee" of the St. Albert Protestant and Separate School District No. 6 will be presenting the last of a series of three one-night sessions. The topic of this particular program will deal with the topic, "Common Frustrations of Children."

The session will take place on Tuesday, March 22 at 7:30 p.m. in the Music Room at Leo Nickerson School (10 Sycamore Avenue). Our guest speaker will be Dr. David Merchant.

Dr. Merchant is a psychologist in private practice in Edmonton, who is probably best known for his work in child psychotherapy but a major portion of his practice includes marital and family counselling as well as individual adult counselling.

Dr. Merchant has been active as a senior associate in the psychological consulting firm, Canadian Educational and Psychological Consultants Ltd. Dr. Merchant is also the psychological consultant to the Atonement Home - an institutional home for children in Edmonton. In addition to his consulting work, Dr. Merchant, assistant clinical professor, teaches in the department of educational psychology at the University of Alberta. Dr. Merchant is also in demand as a keynote speaker and workshop director in the area of education and psychology.

His background and experience are in education, community agencies and hospital settings. He has been employed as the psychological consultant to the Community Counselling Centre in Fort McMurray and he was on staff with the Department of Psychiatry at the Misericordia Hospital in Edmonton as a clinical psychologist.

Dr. Merchant has a great wealth of experience as a former school teacher, a former guidance counsellor at both the elementary and secondary levels, and has been a visiting professor at McGill University in the Department of Counsellor Education. He holds an undergraduate and master's degree from McGill University and a Ph.D. in counselling psychology from the University of Alberta.

A number of parents have expressed an interest in a workshop on the topic of discipline. If there is sufficient interest, we will plan a very practical session in late April on what mothers, fathers and teachers can do to improve discipline in their homes and classrooms. If you are interested, please let me know by contacting me at 429-5621, ext. 286, or 458-1686.

Learning disabilities film and discussion to be held March 22

The Glenrose School Hospital Auditorium will be the scene of a meeting of the Edmonton Association for Children with Learning Disabilities on Tuesday, March 22 at 8 p.m. The hospital is located at 10230 - 111 Avenue in Edmonton.

A new film on learning disabilities will be previewed, entitled "Victor." According to one learning disabilities expert who worked on production of the film, "Victor differs significantly from the stereo-typed special education film. It not only looks at the behaviour symptoms of an older elementary boy with a learning problem, but it looks too at the problems connected with resource room teaching and suggests strategies for overcoming these problems."

The film explores the problems of a real youngster who after years of failure is beginning to experience success; but parents and teachers worry Will it last? What will happen when he begins junior high?"

JOHN KOSTER

Ron Morritt, Manager of Weber's St. Albert office would like to welcome MR. JOHN KOSTER to the team of experienced realtors at Weber's. John worked in the business with another agent and has an outstanding sales record. He can be reached at 458-1787 or 459-6686.

Strap banned

As expected, public school board trustees voted four to three Tuesday not to grant a petition from Simon Fraser junior high school parents in Calgary, asking that their school be allowed to keep using the strap if required for discipline.

The request was the third one from parents of different schools the board has rejected after banning the use of the strap January 1st.

Community school concept develops in stages

By Sue Hoffer
Community School
Co-ordinator

During its developmental stages, Community Education was at various times synonymous with extra activities for children, adult education, and recreation programs. Community Education has evolved from programs which were added onto the regular school schedule to a philosophical concept that has somewhat changed the role of the schools. Schools which were primarily responsible for the limited education of the children from five to 16 between the hours of nine to four have been given an additional responsibility. These Community Education oriented schools have addressed themselves to the problems of community service and community development. This does not mean that schools are to be "all things to all people," but rather to play a co-ordinating role for the communities, without making the concept too idealistic.

Historically, the ingredients in community education have tended to develop from the regular educational program, to the use of facilities, to activities for school age children and adults, and finally to encompass community involvement.

After Community Education has been introduced into a district, there seems to be almost immediate and automatic development of Community Education up to a point and then the growth slows down and some cases terminates, somewhat short of the goals involved in true Community Education.

Real Community Education is a product of time. The definition of Community Education for one community may not be the same for another district. To measure successful growth, a community must look at what they have and the direction in which the community wants to move in developing the concept. There is no one plan of development which is appropriate for all communities. Some communities may develop co-ordination of community involvement first. Frequently, the use of facilities and activity programs is the first to be implemented. In any event Community Education does occur in stages and is composed of various elements. The ultimate goal is to achieve the total concept by developing all the factors and resources in a community.

Voice of V.J.M.

By Ilane Lynch
Like looking into a crystal ball, the grade nines of VJM may have had their first glimpse of what just may be their futures.

On Thursday, March 10, the high school held a Career's Day! This is where professionals from many occupations come to talk to the students about jobs from aero-space engineering to farming. It was a very interesting and informative day for all who attended. Later on that evening Parent-Teacher interviews took over. The evening came to an end around 9:30 and resumed again at 8:30 the next morning. Along with the interviews a display of school activities was set up in the lunchroom. All in all education week was a great success.

VJM will hold its first annual Pep Rally this Friday, March 18. There will be awards given out to the individual winners in the winter carnival, to carnival queen contestants and the snow sculptor winners.

Last Saturday the Old Dutch basketball tournament was held at VJM and PK. The boys did a good job by pulling off a second place; unfortunately the girls didn't do as well but they still gave it their best.

Our school newspaper has finally been printed and we have already started selling the first issue. We hope it will be a success.

The Kiwanis Festival is on its way and it should prove to be an enjoyable event for all who participate.

The spring break is creeping up on us slowly but surely. Everyone can hardly wait. The students and teachers will soon be off on an 11 day holiday in Disneyland, Hawaii, Radium and a lot of other places as well.

Congratulations again to the basketball teams and thanks to the spectators and to all of you who helped make these past few weeks a great success. Keep up the good work.

Simpson, Thompson - Old Dutch Victors

Sir George Simpson boys and Sir John Thompson girls of Edmonton were both victorious in the first annual Old Dutch Invitational this past weekend.

In girls action St. Brenden,

V. J. Maloney, Paul Kane and Sir John Thompson got in playoff action. St. Brenden then defeated V. J. Maloney and John Thompson defeated a vastly improved Paul Kane to force an all Edmonton final. John Thompson demolished St. Brenden in the final by a score of 62-11 to take home the Old Dutch Champion T-Shirts.

V. J. Maloney, St. Pius X, and Simpson got by St. Phillips to force a St. Albert showdown. In the tension filled final V. J. Maloney took a 9-2 first quarter lead, but Simpson back and forth throughout the second half before Simpson finally won 36-25.

CITY FINALS FRIDAY

At 7 p.m. Friday, March 18 in the Paul Kane Gym the City Finals for the girls championship will be held. The boys final will be held at 8:15. Admission will be 25¢.

Kiddie films need adult support

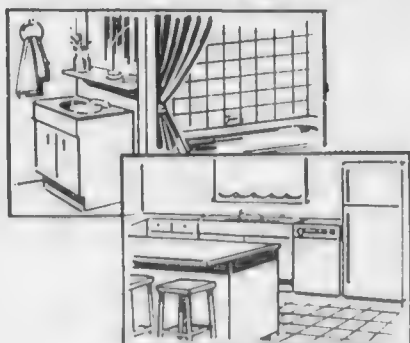

By Kelly Daniels
Community Youth Worker
As many of you I'm sure are aware, the East Side Teens teen club, with assistance from other teen groups, have started once again the Saturday afternoon Kiddie Films at Father Jan School. By taking a look at the long line-ups every weekend afternoon it's easy to see the need for such an attraction but the teens need help with this project.

To get the use of the school, adult support people are needed to come out Saturday afternoon between 1 o'clock and 4 o'clock. The teens do all the supervising, clean-up, and operate the projector but they need your help in simply being their and giving support.

It would be great if they could get some people to come out on a weekly basis but if you can only arrange one or two weekends that would be a great help.

If you wish to volunteer your time or want more information contact Kelly at 459-6601.

Self improvement program for girls starts March 21

A lot of interest has been generated by local teen-age girls for a self-improvement type program, and finally a good program has been set up. This program has been designed to help the girls develop a better knowledge of how to present themselves in the best possible way.

The first part of the program, Diet and Nutrition, will be looked after by Pat Doerksen, home economist for the MD of Sturgeon. Pat presents this topic on March 21, from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., in the Home Economics Room at Sir George Simpson School. These hours and location will remain the same for all five meeting dates.

The next feature in the program will not take place until April 4, at which time, Ingrid's Beauty Clinic will discuss Hair Care. Then, on April 11, Marg Thompson will present Fitness. Lynn Smith from the Second Look will give her presentation, Make-up and Skin Care, which should prove to be very interesting for the young ladies, on April 18. The final part of the program will be Wardrobe Planning, presented by Mrs. Rodgers on April 25.

There will be a small fee of $8 charged for the entire program. If you require more information please phone Kelly at 459-6601 ext. 78.

A special thanks goes out to the following people who made this program possible: Christine Clements, Dianne Garret, Tracy Campbell, Barb Murphy, Connie Herman and Leela Asharya.

Career Day - Gold Rush Day mark Education Week at St. Albert High

Gold Rush Days at St. Albert High brought many visitors to the school. Parents, students and young children all found many enjoyable ways to "donate" money to the Third World. Here we see "gamblers" playing Blackjack, seeking a fortune in "Buckaroos," the currency of the day.

Teen News & Views

By Kelly Daniels
Community Youth Worker
The last time you read this column I briefly ran down a few thoughts on the vandalism and teen alcoholism concerns many communities are expressing. But let's bring it home a little bit and discuss St. Albert and the community youth worker position.

St. Albert isn't much of a unique situation in that it does have a large youth population, except that they are slightly less mobile than their counterparts in Edmonton. This compounds the situation somewhat in that youth are often identified as the "idle youth" because of their tendency to hang around shopping malls, parks, etc. So now, in St. Albert, a lot of the opportunities to go shopping, go to the billiard hall, see a movie or take advantage of the many large and well serviced parks in Edmonton are restricted. Hence the already idle youth have even more cause to be idle. With idleness can often come mischievousness and things can often get carried away. Partly because St. Albert is far behind in the development of parks and recreation facilities and because many of the teens who are vandalizing in the community wouldn't make that much use of the facilities anyway, another approach must be taken to recreation programming for this group.

A lot of teens have the potential and desires to create their own forms of recreation. This is largely because the activities they enjoy somewhat unique and are not provided for in the community such as camping trips, dances, non-competitive sports, etc. Usually the teens have to be approached and frequently co-ordination and adult support has to be organized. But the teens themselves can develop the activity and provide the stimulation whereby peers will be interested in participating.

A highly successful Career Days program for students from grades 9 - 12 was an Education Week feature at St. Albert High last Thursday.

Over 30 speakers from widely differing fields were brought in to conduct career sessions, each speaker handling from one to four sessions on his particular topic. Major presentations were made by the University of Alberta, S.A.I.T. and Grant MacEwan College and the program continued all day Thursday.

Six months work on the format preceded this year's presentations. A work committee, spearheaded by Mark Prefontaine conducted an informal survey of students, teachers and parents to determine which careers were of most interest. The survey was then tabulated and a format arranged around the 35 most popular choices, for which speakers were invited to the school.

Northwest Industries sent an aero-space engineer, a professional athlete talked about his career and a speaker on Wildlife Management was popular. There was a lawyer, architect, farmer, social worker, heavy duty mechanic and the trades were well represented. A nursery school teacher and a physical education instructor handled several sessions. A number of the guest speakers were local people.

GOLD RUSH NETS $326 FOR SHARE-LENT

The annual Gold Rush Days has become a St. Albert High feature in Education Week and this year the 'Gold' amounted to about $326 which the school will turn over to help Third World countries under the Share-Lent plan. The provincial government will match that for an $800 contribution and then the federal government doubles the figure for a $1600 contribution.

There is a minimal interruption of classes for the Gold Rush, but students and teachers get into the spirit of the day in Klondike or western dress and everybody enjoys the fun. Various departments set up activities for the evening, when the parents attend and take part in the activities at Klondike style casinos, restaurants, ice cream parlours etcetera. As the buckaroos change hands the fund for the poor countries grows.

Don't know what to do?

These activities then, are organized by the kids, so they meet their interests and naturally then attract their peer group. This can also be a very character building experience for all the teens involved as well as teaching positive skills for future work in the community. It also provides for a self monitoring approach of these activities because kids know that if they abuse the facility or program it will be discontinued so the teens who organize the event also meet the responsibility of supervising it.

This is presently in operation with many of the teen activities and to the teens' credit it is working.

So that's one approach, making the teens in the community responsible, to an extent, for their own recreation. They meet the responsibility and respond to their own needs when those needs change.

How the community can become more involved and further discussion on the youth worker approach to teen needs in the community will be discussed next week.

TEEN SCENE

Trevor and the gang from East Side Teens are doing a great job with those kiddie films on Saturday afternoon and commencing this Saturday the teen-adult movies begin at Grandin Clubhouse with "Flight of the Dove." The movie runs twice, once at 7:00 and once at 9:00 and is general entertainment. It's only $1.50 so come on out this Saturday night.

A couple of weeks ago St. Albert Teens held a dance in the community hall that could have been a disaster - You see the six chaperones which had been lined up didn't show because of excuses ranging from illness to unexpected company. The teens decided to go ahead by appointing older members as chaperones with permission from Mr. Terrault. Because of the confidence Mr. Terrault had in the group to let them try, the dance went off with fewer problems than any other teen activity has for many months.

My congratulations to Kathy Cockwill, Ted Zylstra, Linda Lindstrom, Leslie Holt, Butch Lindstrom, and the rest of the St. Albert teens for a job well done.

This Friday in the Grandin Clubhouse the Syndicate is holding another disco. This one will prove to be bigger and better than ever as the group continues to improve their equipment. It is restricted to junior high teens only so bring along your I.D. card and it starts at 7:30 for 75¢ per person.

This Saturday in Lacombe Clubhouse the Department of Youth is holding a pancake breakfast. There are a limited number of tickets available so pick yours up fast from any department of youth member.

For more information on any of the above activities call me at 459-6601.

Concerning Women Of Today's World

Women's groups raise funds for community projects

On Monday, March 14, the Zonta Club of Edmonton and the Gateway Chapter, Sweet Adelines Inc. presented Key Notes to Fashion at the Citadel Theatre in Edmonton.

Following the introductions the Sweet Adelines opened the program with a medley of SMILE, VAUDEVILLE, and THAT'S ENTERTAINMENT followed by The Sapphires, a quartet including Valerie Webster, Helen Alain, Marie MacDonald and Laurie Wilson, singing RAIN.

The first half of the fashion show featured four themes: 'All-Weather Barometer on Fashion, The Coat and Suit Story, Sportswear and a Salute to St. Patrick.

The Sapphires rounded out the first half with KERRY DANCERS, while the Sweet Adelines got things rolling again after a short intermission with another medley LET ME BE THERE, THOSE WERE THE DAYS, SUGAR and IT'S A SMALL WORLD.

Fashions in the second half included: The International Scene, Dawn to Dusk - Daywear, Leisure and Casual fashions and Evening fashions.

The show came to a close to the music of the Sweet Adelines in chorus.

Fashions were provided by Holt Renfrew, jewellery by La Mode de Paris. The models were members of the Zonta Club, lighting and staging by the Citadel technicians. Convenor for the show was Ethel Mitchell and the committee which assisted her included Elsie Luklan, Kay Vaydik and Mary Dunphy.

The Zonta Club of Edmonton is a service organization, made up of executive women in business and the professions. They are chartered in 1953, as a branch of Zonta International, which has charter clubs in 48 countries, on six continents, and membership is well over 25,000. The Edmonton Club presently enjoys a membership of 42 women.

The majority of the funds raised by the Edmonton club are expended in service to the community and in recent years efforts have been concentrated on projects which would aid the handicapped. The club has been involved in the Special Games held each Spring for the Alberta area handicapped. This led, in 1974, to the decision to purchase a Handi-Bus, for use by persons confined to wheelchairs. This was donated to the Edmonton Handi-Bus Association. The 1975-76 efforts purchased the complete furnishings for the lounge in the new Rundle Heights Recreational Centre for the Handicapped.

Zonta's share of the proceeds from this fashion show will help furnish the Library in the same facility.

The Gateway Chapter Sweet Adelines Inc. join together in four part harmony-barbershop style every Tuesday evening at Prince of Wales Armoury. Their fall concert is planned for November 5, 1977 at the Jubilee Auditorium. The Gateway Chapter, Sweet Adelines Inc. will use their share of the proceeds from the fashion show to assist the "Big Sisters" in their work.

Newcomers Auction

The Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club has been enjoying an active New Year.

In January we enjoyed an instructive evening with Mr. Max Chorney who teaches "Ladies and Limousines" at Paul Kane High School. He advised us on how to winterize and maintain our vehicles through the winter months. The February meeting was highlighted by a fashion show by the NAIT sewing and tailoring classes. The students did a professional job of modelling their own creations.

March 1 was a night to remember -- extra door prizes in celebration of St. Patrick's Day and a delightful entertainment by the students of the St. Albert School of Dancing who treated us to displays of jazz, tap and ballet. These young people show remarkable talent and we wish them all good luck in the May dance festival.

April is the month for our annual Spring Auction. The monies collected will be donated to the Sturgeon General Hospital. Some items are donated by several local businesses but we will need donations from our members as well. These can include household items, crafts, house plants etc., but no used clothing, please. Tickets must be sold in advance and the girl to call is Marilyn Kachulak at 458-2809.

Tickets will also be on sale that night for the Spring Dance to be held at the Community Hall on May 13. This dance will be for members only.

Remember the date for the Auction is April 5 and the action starts at 7:30 p.m. sharp.

CONSTITUENCY CONFERENCE HERE

Plans for the Constituency Conference to be held in St. Albert on April 23 were discussed. Organizational groups were formed to look after the different areas such as food, entertainment, etc.

Irene Bokenfohr spoke on important documents and papers. Where do you keep yours? In a cupboard, and this drawer, some in that drawer, some in your purse or pocket, or perhaps a few in a file somewhere. She said it was very important to have a home business centre, where you can keep all your receipts, documents and important papers.

She also stated that it was very important for women to plan for widowhood, as statistics show that women outlive their husbands by about eight years, often having to raise young children. Statistics also show that

HELP society providing essential services here

With the increasingly impersonal nature of modern society, the everyday problems of the individual are often ignored. Individual may be leading lives of quiet desperation within the confines of their homes, while society carries on unaware. In St. Albert, however, assistance is available to make life easier for some, who through no fault of their own, are finding it hard to cope. The St. Albert Help Society extends a helping hand to mothers in desperate need of a day away from the never-ending demands of their young ones, to families floundering because the mother is absent or unable to perform her duties, and to those who are too old or ill to feed themselves. The Society's annual report has outlined these programs:

The Mother's Day Out program is the current name of the Society's licensed day care organization. It is held in the United Church basement on Thursdays during the school year.

The ultimate purpose for Mother's Day Out is to aid mothers suffering from stress, and those unable to afford a babysitter for a full day. The large number of young families in St. Albert make such an operation necessary.

At present, the program utilizes the services of 59 active volunteers who perform general babysitting duties, assist in arts and crafts, and help prepare meals and snacks for the children.

The small, non-structured day care service uses volunteers, as well as the Pastor and staff of the United Church, who lend their facilities free of charge. Thus the isolated mother can rest assured that her children are enjoying well-planned activities with responsible care, while she takes advantage of a well-earned escape from her duties. This program is preventative in nature as it aids in diminishing family stress problems.

In 1976, 770 children and 207 mothers used the service. Each week there are seven volunteers working five hours a day over a 35 week year. The cost to the client is $1.75 per child, $3 per family of two children and $4 per family of three or more children.

To learn more about the program, contact Bud Reiniger, co-ordinating supervisor or at 459-8736.

HOMEMAKER SERVICE

The most recurrent need in St. Albert is for a "mother replacement," when the mother cannot perform her duties due to absence, illness or other reasons. Similar services are provided for families without children, usually on a doctor's recommendation for restricted activity following surgery. The services provided by this program include child care, meal preparation, laundry and housecleaning.

This year the program has undergone some changes. A rise in St. Albert's population from 21,343 to 23,904 has created an increased demand for service. However, an improvement in the services available was possible as a result of updating wage scales, enabling an increase in homemaker staff. Although a 24-hour service for single parent families or families where the father's work takes him away from home is not available, the Family Service Association of Edmonton has been co-operative in lending their assistance wherever possible.

A change in the operation of the service occurred last June when it acquired office space from the Social Services Department at 20 Muir Drive. Thus the service is now more accessible to the public, in closer contact with other services in the department, and has a full-time answering service during business hours. The supervisor's home number is available through an after hours number handled at the fire hall.

In 1976, the service aided 100 families, giving 4,521 hours of service.

MEALS-ON-WHEELS

The Meals-on-Wheels project, also sponsored by the Help Society, is a volunteer, non-profit organization designed to provide hot, nourishing food to those who are unable to provide for themselves because of mental or physical disability, including aging.

The provision of meals is not the only purpose however. The service makes other contacts with people in the community, especially the senior citizens, the handicapped and those recuperating from illness. This is done by providing meals once a week at the Senior Citizens Centre for an invited group. Entertainment and educational programs are provided, and a volunteer transportation program is available for those who need it.

During last year, a three-part program was developed. The first part involved the continuance of home delivery of food. The top fee per meal was increased to $1.50 with adjustments made according to the client's ability to pay. The second part involved an expansion of the service at the Senior Citizens Centre to include up to 20-22 meals once a week. A variety of entertaining and educational programs were arranged for the recipients. Helping with these programs were a home economist, a dental hygienist, musicians, a physical education expert, Sturgeon Health Unit nurses, senior citizens giving armchair travelogues and other community workers.

The last part of the program provided volunteers for some extra services such as driving Seniors to programs at the centre and taking them shopping or to the bank. Volunteers visited the sick and handicapped and drove them to therapy sessions. They also assisted with the Swine Flu Program and with programs at the Senior Citizen Centre. The Society has emphasized in its report that volunteer drivers are urgently needed. To volunteer such services, phone 459-4756 or 459-7476.

The Meals-on-Wheels program has been supported by the Sturgeon General Hospital and the Youville Home. They have supplied the nutritious meals on alternate years, each one giving one year of free meals to help the program get started. Their charges now are reasonable.

little sister learns to trust and depend on the big sister.

They meet at Terra House. This was started in October 1971 and operated from the YWCA on government grants for about three years. In 1974 they started to receive steady funding.

The Big Sisters have to be over 18 and prepared to spend at least five hours a week. They are oriented to find out if they can meet the demands required. They fill out applications and are interviewed. This is a two-way commitment, with the big sisters and little sisters.

They are carefully matched and rematched if necessary.

Old Bavarian Stew in new crock cooker

From the Christian Science Monitor

Among the folktales of the world there endures the story of the magical stew which concerns a wanderer, a tramp or soldier who cannot get a stingy old woman or an unfriendly village to share a meal with him.

The hero takes what is at hand, something like a few iron nails or a few clean stones, puts them in a stewpot with a little water, places it over a fire, and begins to describe what a magnificent stew he is looking forward to.

Naturally, he draws interest, for no one has ever heard of a stew made of these ingredients. As he stirs he suggests that the stew could be improved - with a few potatoes, perhaps, then someone brings a few. Carrots are good in a stew, he suggests. Carrots are brought. Then meat - several kinds are offered. Seasonings, and so forth, are mentioned until there is great enthusiasm for the goodness of the stew which the stranger is concocting. The happy ending is that everyone enjoys the stew together - which they have made together.

Another story about stew originated in Bavaria, Germany, where a special "eintopf," or one-dish meal, was reputedly created in the 18th century in the village of Schonberg, not far from both the Czechoslovakian and Austrian borders.

The story is that the stew was assembled during a village outing to the nearby Buchelstein Hill. Everyone went on the picnic and brought something to add to the meal.

It was so successful that the community picnic stew became an annual event on June 16, St. Benno's Day. Originally called "Buchelsteiner" for the hill where it was created, it is now called "Pichelsteiner" and has been adopted by many Germans as a one-dish, slow-cooking meal. In the authentic version a cup of beef marrow is divided between the top and bottom of the pot, and celeriac or celery root is an indispensable ingredient. Sometimes no liquid is added so that the vegetables and meat literally stew in their own juice, but in order to achieve this end, a very low heat must be maintained and no steam may be allowed to escape the pot.

The Pichelsteiner is an ideal stew to adapt to modern crock cookery where low heat is electrically maintained and food steams all day long, if you don't lift the lid.

Here then is a modern version of the Bavarian stew called Pichelsteiner, to be made in a standard (about 3 1/2-quart) electric pot.

BAVARIAN PICHELSTEINER STEW

Cooking Oil
 1/4 pound beef, in stew size pieces
 1/4 pound pork, in stew-size pieces
 1/4 pound of veal (or lamb) in stew-size pieces
 2 onions, medium size
 2 or 3 potatoes
 4 carrots
 1 celeriac, optional
 3 tablespoons finely chopped parsley
 Salt
 Pepper
 Paprika
 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
 1 cup beef broth

Heat a little oil in a skillet and quickly brown the meat on all sides. Meanwhile, pare the vegetables and slice them all in very thin slices.

Spread a thin layer of oil over the bottom and sides of the pot. Add a layer of the meat, about one third, and sprinkle generously with salt, pepper, and paprika. Add a tablespoon of chopped parsley, then a layer of a third of each of the vegetables.

Dot with butter or margarine. Start again with meat and seasonings, repeating these layers until the pot is full. Pour the beef broth over all and cover the pot. Set the control on the low setting of an electric crockery cooker and cook for 10 to 12 hours. Serves 6.

Beginning at noon on Saturday, March 26, until 3 p.m. in the afternoon, strawberry shortcake and tea or coffee will be served for 75¢ as well as ice cream and kool-aid for the kiddies at 25¢.

Judging of the baking contest will take place at 1:30 and is always an exciting and nervous event for the participants.

A door prize will be awarded so please remember to hang onto your tickets. We invite all St. Albert residents to join us for a thoroughly relaxing and enjoyable afternoon at the Community Hall. Come and visit with your friends over a piece of strawberry shortcake and a cup of tea or coffee. It's a great way to spend a Saturday afternoon.

POT-LUCK SUPPER

The McKenzie District Guides and Brownies held a very successful mother and daughter pot-luck supper last month in the basement of the Roman Catholic Parish.

Approximately 200 mothers and daughters enjoyed a wide variety of extremely tasty casseroles and salads as a main course and then were treated to an array of desserts that were a joy to behold. The dessert table looked like a centrefold in a Woman's Day or Creative Cooking magazine and was a sumptuous ending to a thoroughly delicious meal.

The mothers' outdid themselves in all areas and provided everyone present with an excellent evening out. A film on Guiding was shown for the enlightenment and enjoyment of all present. It was a fitting ending to a most enjoyable evening.

FORT HEADACHES NOT FROM CARBON MONOXIDE

A recent outbreak of headaches at the Pineview Sports-Plex in Fort Saskatchewan was caused by an unknown factor or combination of factors, according to a Public Health Inspector from the Leduc-Strathcona Health Unit. High carbon monoxide levels were said not to be the cause.

The inspector pointed out the difficulty in determining the cause, as the health unit was not notified about the complaint at the time the headaches occurred, during a February hockey game. The blood tests necessary to determine the presence of carbon monoxide thus were not performed. He added that a number of factors could have been involved including ventilation, lighting, noise levels, paint fumes, psychological stress and excitement.

Tests conducted over a week later revealed the ventilation system was operating efficiently in reducing CO levels. The inspector stated he was quite sure carbon monoxide was not the cause of the headaches.

He explained that carbon monoxide attacks the circulatory system by combining with the hemoglobin in the blood. He said skaters are more susceptible because exercise increases the rate of combination and thus speeds up the symptoms of poisoning.

With CO levels of 200-400 p.p.m. over a one hour period, mild symptoms of headache, light-headedness and fatigue would appear in the skaters. With higher levels over 400 p.p.m. over the same exposure period, more severe symptoms of headache, nausea and dizziness occur.

RATE HIKE IRKS LEDUC COUNCIL

An irate Leduc town council agreed last Monday night to send a letter to the provincial government in protest against the approved 20 percent increase in the mill rate levied against municipalities for the Alberta Planning Fund.

This year's provincial spending guidelines for spending increases has been set at 10 percent. In light of this fact, Councillor Bob Guebert chastised the government for its 20 percent increase.

The new mill rate applies to municipalities with populations from 3,001 to 20,000. The new rate, for the planning fund, which serves the province's municipalities, is .6 mills, up from .5 mills in 1976.

Leduc is being asked to pay $15,000 into the fund this year, as opposed to $8,500 in 1976. The increased amount is based on Leduc's new assessment of $25.4 million, and amounts to a 79 percent increase.

LIFTING THE LID ON NUCLEAR SCANDAL

More details have been revealed in documents made available to The Financial Post concerning the secret payment of $5 million to anonymous agents who supposedly played a role in the sale of a Candu reactor to Argentina by Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd. The documents show that Italmipianti SpA, AECL's partner in the Rio Tercero Project, paid out $2.5 million as its 50% share of the agent's "commission" in a series of eight payments between May, 1973, and January, 1975, writes Robert Hutchison from Genoa, Italy. AECL paid its $2.5 million, on Italmipianti's instructions, in one payment in 1974.

Italmipianti's managing director, Lucien Sicouri, told an assistant federal prosecutor in Genoa that his company's payments were for "sales promotion expenses" on the project and eventually made their way to Argentina through anonymous accounts in Switzerland and Luxembourg. Because Italmipianti has refused to reveal the identity of the agent, or agents, there are suspicions that the payments of $5 million may have been used as payoffs or bribes. But, in fact, it is not certain there was an agent, or, if there was one, whether he received all of the $5 million. AECL did not know who the sales agents were, did not know what services they were to perform, did not know whether they did perform any services - and apparently did not want to know!

ENERGY SAVING DEVICE COULD SAVE A HOSPITAL $8,000

An energy-saving electrical control device, first introduced at the University of Alberta Hospital last fall, is expected to save the hospital as much as $8 thousand this winter. The device, which was developed to control electricity to the hospital's one thousand outdoor parking stalls, is a combination of outdoor thermostats, relays and timing equipment.

The idea was first put on paper more than a year ago by A. T. Mohler, the hospital's director of physical plant. Realizing the need for more than just a timing device to control electricity to parking stalls, he developed and improved the system so that the flow of electricity would be activated on a time basis corresponding with outdoor temperatures.

Before the electrical control device was introduced, power to the parking lots was on continually, leaving vehicles like "constant boiling kettles." Now, vehicles can be left plugged in. But by controlling the energy flow, the power is only on for enough time to keep each vehicle block temperature at a level that gives it adequate heat.

Temperature variations make it difficult to estimate the amount of energy saved, but it is anticipated that with an average of one thousand watts consumed by as many vehicles over a five month period, the electricity consumption can be reduced by as much as 60 percent. As Mr. Mohler puts it, "this gives the hospital some means of dealing with the increasing cost of electricity."

It is expected that similar energy conservation systems will be adopted by others. Many firms responsible for large energized parking areas have already expressed an interest in the system which the University Hospital has introduced.

The Entertainment Scene

Audience appreciates music and personality of zoology grad

By Jeanne Jamison

Lounges are lounges are lounges and the only thing that sets one apart from the other is the atmosphere, the entertainment and the service. Atmosphere and service being equal, the main feature to my mind is the entertainment and in many cases it is fairly poor.

Having stated my feelings on the matter, it was a pleasant surprise to be 'entertained' one evening at the Chateau Louis' Cog D'Or by a young man who's only been in the business fulltime for the past 10 months.

Craig Sobat, a 23 year old Zoology graduate from the University of Alberta got into entertaining about two years ago as a means of providing a little extra income while attending school. Upon graduation, he found himself in what is becoming a familiar position for university grads - unemployed. There were no jobs available in his field.

One of the things (about Craig Sobat's type of entertainment) which appealed to me was his personal involvement with his audience. He talks to the people around him. As a member of his audience, you become aware of his energy, and his desire to communicate with each person in the room.

Craig admits to being a "greenhorn" in the music industry and claims that one of his major problems is not being able to read music. He plays guitar, entirely by ear, and uses a mechanical percussion back-up system, when he performs.

Craig's repertoire of music includes something for everyone, from rock and roll, current hits and Latin American, to the oldy goldies of days gone past. He doesn't have a favourite recording star - he's pretty open-minded and likes a wide variety of musical styles. The future for Craig could head in any one of several different directions. He plans to record his first single, a song which he wrote - 'Monday Morning, Early Sunrise,' a song which expresses his feelings about being on the road, travelling from town to town, playing the night spots around the country. Getting involved in television is another possibility for Craig.

As is the case with many young Canadian artists, the lure of the United States, its promoters, extensive recording industry and the money is a temptation.

"Canada is my home and I'd like to 'make it' here if I can," said Craig. "But I may have to move to Toronto where the recording industry is bigger," he added.

Playing the nightspots or

Zoology grad, Craig Sobat is doing a great job of entertaining Edmonton residents in local lounges.

Photographic equipment on show at the Museum

There's a new angle to the Sunday afternoon craft demonstrations at the Provincial Museum this month, and local photographer Hans Hildebrandt hopes it will click.

Sundays from 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. visitors can find Hans surrounded by turn-of-the-century photographic and darkroom equipment. The display is located near The Harness Shop, second floor History Gallery, and is sponsored by Alberta Culture.

Three types of old view cameras from the Museum's collection are on show. The largest one is a portrait camera set up so interested people can look through the lens and see the same scene the photographer would have taken.

Mr. Hildebrandt will answer visitor's questions about early methods of photography, and show how the early equipment worked.

Admission to the Museum is free. Hours are Monday to Thursday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Friday 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., Saturday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday 11 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Instructors show opens at Guild Gallery

A frightening story of racial prejudice performed at The Citadel

The Komagata Maru Incident by Sharon Pollock opens at the Rice Theatre Monday March 21 at 8 p.m. as the final production of the 76/77 Rice Theatre season. Directed by James Defelice, the Citadel's production of The Komagata Maru Incident transforms the Citadel's studio theatre into a thrust stage with designs by David Lovett.

The Komagata Maru Incident is the second play of Sharon Pollock's produced at the Citadel. Her play, A Compulsory Option, was produced at Citadel Two last season. Sharon Pollock, an Edmontonian, is currently writer-in-residence at the University of Alberta. James Defelice, director-writer-teacher who wrote the screenplay for the soon-to-be released movie "Why Shoot the Teacher?" directs his first production at the Citadel. David Lovett, whose costume designs were seen in Romeo and Juliet earlier this season, designs this production.

Michael Ball, currently playing the Bullinger Brothers in Schweg in the Second World War plays William Hopkinson, the Canadian immigration official. Georg Braun is played by Jean-Pierre Fournier returning to the Citadel after appearing in and staging the fight scenes for Richard III at Bastion Theatre, Victoria. Angela Gann follows her performance in Jill playing Sophie in The Komagata Maru Incident. Ray Hunt as T.S. and Patricia Lenyre as Woman both make their first appearances at the Citadel. Peggy Mahon completes the cast as Evy following her performance as Anna Kopecka in Schweg in the Second World War.

A true story. The Komagata Maru Incident is the frightening story of racial prejudice, bureaucratic incompetence, human deceit and violence that characterized the events which developed when 376 Asian immigrants arrived in Vancouver harbour to become part of this country.

The Komagata Maru Incident runs in The Rice Theatre until April 2. Tickets are available at the Citadel Box Office 425-1820.

Imperial Oil collection opens in Jubilee Auditorium

An exhibition of 36 paintings, drawings and prints from The Imperial Oil Collection opened at the Jubilee Auditorium on March 8. Entitled "Some Aspects of Head and Figure," the exhibition was coordinated by The Edmonton Art Gallery and will travel to six cities in Alberta after closing in Edmonton on March 20.

The exhibition takes the figure from painterly representation through various stages from imaginative distortion to total abstraction. The collection includes works by artists such as Goodridge Roberts, Jacques de Tonnancour, Hugh MacKenzie, Frederick H. Varley, John Alfson, Tom Duquette and Masha Teitelbaum.

Imperial Oil's art collection, which was started in 1965, is composed of 133 paintings and 13 sculptures and is divided into four self-contained exhibitions -- "Some Aspects of Head and Figure," "Some Aspects of Landscape," "Some Aspects of Contemplation" and

"Some Aspects of Sculpture." The collection represents a cross-section of contemporary and historical Canadian artists. Gerry Moses, who recently retired as art director from Imperial's Public Affairs Department, chose the works with three primary points in mind - the works should reflect current trends in Canadian art, that they be of high quality, and also be generally recognizable by any member of the public.

This exhibition is circulated in Alberta by The Edmonton Art Gallery's Extension Services. After closing in Edmonton, the exhibition will travel to Grande Prairie, Red Deer, Medicine Hat, Lethbridge, Calgary and Banff.

New Canadian books at The St. Albert Public Library

By Margrit McCreath
Ben Wick's Canada by Ben Wicks. Canada's London-bred, internationally-syndicated newspaper cartoonist tickles the nation's funny bone with a cockney-eyed view of Canadian life, manners, morals, and history. Jam-packed with giggles, guffaws, photos and cartoons, this book includes 127 black and white illustrations.
Canada's Quilts by Mary Conroy. A unique book on the social history of Canada as revealed in our quilts. It begins in New France and Newfoundland 300 years ago, carries the story through the 19th century, into the decline of quilting and on to its present widespread revival as a craft and art. Extensively illustrated with colour, black and white photographs and 14 drawings of quilting patterns. For quilters and non-quilters; for those who love beautiful things from Canada's past and present.

Ojibway Heritage by Basil Johnston. Rarely accessible beyond the limits of its people, Ojibway mythology is as rich in meaning and mystery. As broad, as deep, and as innately appealing as the mythologies of Greece, Rome, Egypt and other civilizations. Now, in one entertaining and authentic volume, Ojibway teacher, Basil Johnston, sets forth the broad spectrum of his people's life, legends and beliefs.

The Pioneer Years, 1895-1914: Memoirs of Settlers Who Opened the West by Barry Broadfoot. Another book of oral history in the hugely successful Broadfoot tradition of Ten Lost Years and Six War Years. Interviewed this time are men and women who settled and civilized the West. There are stories of incredible hardship, of drought and pestilence in summer and unbelievable cold in the winter. Yet these people retained their sense of humour and their love for the new land.

The Swing in the Garden by Hugh Hood. The first in a projected series of 12 novels dealing with the experience of living in Canada during the middle years of the present century. The story begins in Toronto in 1930 and opens into a child's world rendered with all the immediacy of memory coupled with the inner truth of imagination.

Things That Go Squeak in the Night by Gregory Clark. Here is a brand new collection of Greg Clark stories, the 13th book by Canada's well-known humourist who passed away in February of this year. This is a wonderful selection of witty tales from The Packerack, a feature that appeared daily in Canadian newspapers for many years. Greg Clark is the winner of the Leacock Medal for Humour.

Previous to 1973 the University of Alberta Stage Band existed as a Students' Union Club with no formal organization. In 1973-74, Professor Fordyce Pier assumed the role of director and the Bands' relationship with the Department of Music was established. In late 1975 the Band received authorization for partial credit towards Ensemble Courses. During 1975 the Band played noon hour concerts in SUB Theatre Lobby. They performed before a full house at Convocation Hall in March 1975. They were featured on the "In Touch With U" television show in April, 1975. Most recently they performed in SUB Theatre in late October, 1976.

Christian groups demand resignation of Lalonde on clinics issue

The Canadian Council for National Righteousness last week called for the resignation of Federal Health Minister Marc Lalonde. Angered by Lalonde's recent request that the provinces set up abortion clinics, Rev. Ron Marr, president of the Council, and a Baptist minister said "He's gone too far - this whole ungodly mess has gone too far. The people of Canada will not stomach it."

Marr telegraphed the Prime Minister, demanding Lalonde's resignation in the name of 27,000 council members across Canada, and has begun to mobilize the 4,000 churches with which the council communicates. "I'm not a Catholic," he says, but I'm opposed to abortion, and moreover I believe the government does not have the right to advise against Catholic beliefs ..."

[Residents of the St. Paul area of Alberta have also demanded Lalonde's resignation on this issue, and on March 7th The Alliance for Life also called for the Minister's resignation "if he was unable or unwilling to reverse his department's flagrantly pro-abortion policies".]

The Rev. Marr had a telephone call from Dr. Harold O. J. Brown, founder of the Christian Action Council, based in Washington, D.C. in which Dr. Brown said "This proposal, if it were really intended to deal with genuinely medical abortions, legal under Canadian law, would not be necessary." Dr. Brown is a widely recognized author and opponent of easy abortion.

He asks "Can it be motivated by a desire to duplicate in Canada the abortion-on-demand policies of the United States, and join forces with the U.S. Supreme Court in repudiating the Judeo-Christian principles and 2500 years of medical ethics as taught in the Hippocratic oath?"

Mr. Marr points to Patrice Merrin, special assistant to Mr. Lalonde on the Status of Women. "According to pro-life people," Mr. Marr claims, "Ms. Merrin was executive director of Planned Parenthood of Toronto when they began doing abortion referrals. Reportedly she is now vice president of the Canadian Association for the Repeal of Abortion Laws. One wonders if she isn't writing Lalonde's speeches."

TAX DOLLARS MISAPPROPRIATED?

The government, according to Rev. Marr is "misappropriating tax dollars to pay for brainwashing Canadians to accept immorality and godlessness." He is considering encouraging self employed Canadians to withhold payment of their income tax, but admits he has not yet had time to consider all the legal and moral implications of advocating breaking of the law by withholding tax.

Mr. Marr said his concern over misappropriation of tax dollars has been festering for a long time, and came to a head when he read that "Family Planning, which he reads most often as "abortion," is to be included in the federal Health and Welfare Department's multi-media campaign on lifestyles and preventive health care.

He continued "When I read further that Marc Lalonde said provincial family planning officials will be asked to appraise and distribute curriculum guidelines for use in the schools, and that school boards should no longer reject family life education on the grounds that the material doesn't coincide with their moral values, I really blew my cool. I authored the Petition for Better Schools which already had on it 8,000 Canadian and 9,000 U.S. signatures, and calls for the government to get out of attempts to socialize the child through mind modification, see education and the whole bit!"

In his telegram to Mr. Trudeau, Mr. Marr said that by refusing to request Mr. Lalonde's resignation the Prime Minister would confirm the suspicion already firmly engrained in the minds of millions of Canadian Christians, that he was bent on promoting the immorality and human degradation which will ultimately assure the disintegration of this country.

"When homosexuality is condoned and respect for life deteriorates to the point that it is expendable," the Baptist minister claims "Society is in the last stages of disintegration. It appears we are just about at the precipice and Canada's health minister seems determined to give it a powerful shove."

Both Rev. Marr and Gwen Landolt, president of the Alliance For Life felt that Mr. Lalonde had not paid attention to the Badgley Report. The minister can't blame the report for the provincial clinics idea, said Rev. Marr.

Gwen Landolt in her letter to Lalonde pointed out that, in his recent statement about what the government intended to do about the Badgley Report, only policies making abortions more easily accepted were given, while none of the serious abuses of the law were even mentioned.

She cited in particular his plans to pressure the provinces into creating abortion clinics, thinly disguised as "women's clinics"; his intention of handing over large sums of money to affiliates of the notoriously pro-abortion Planned Parenthood Federation of Canada, which is deeply involved with abortion referral; his hints that he intends to pressure hospitals into doing abortions even when it is offensive to the hospital and its staff; and his inclusion of abortion counselling as a "family planning service." She noted that this made nonsense of Mr. Lalonde's own statements that the government did not regard abortion as a birth control measure.

She went on to point out that Mr. Lalonde had not discussed or proposed any remedies for the flagrant abuses of the law uncovered by the Badgley Report, in particular the fact that some hospitals rubber stamp abortion applications by accepting a fraudulent use of the term "danger to mental health." Another problem uncovered by the report, the lack of protection rights of doctors and nurses who refused to do abortions, was similarly of no apparent concern to Mr. Lalonde. Finally, she noted that Lalonde has made no statement indicating any intention on the part of the government to provide more support for women with problem pregnancies who wish to carry their children to term.

Said Mrs. Landolt, "Instead of financial, social and psychological support women are offered the cheap and dehumanizing "solution" of abortion. Is this the best that the Government can offer the women of Canada?"

Happy New Year!

Probably no one who's shivered through January 1st celebrations bundled up in parkas hasn't secretly wished that New Year would happen in the Spring.

Well, it may come as a surprise, but there is a calendar followed by a growing number of people that celebrates its New Year at a much more reasonable time of the year: March 21st, the first day of Spring!

The Bahá'í Calendar was designed in the last century to mark the beginning of a new spiritual age in the life of mankind. It has 19 months of 19 days - nine of its own holidays - and on this March 21st is 134 years old.

For everyone who's always wanted to celebrate New Year in their shirtsleeves, here's your chance!

Pastor B. L. Heath
First Baptist Church

Here is a statement that is so identical to the hunger and search of most people. It first came out in a church paper in Sunray, Texas and was written by Judy Downs.

VOID:

That's what I was. An unfillable vacuum. I wearied on my emptiness, of the unending loneliness, of having no reason for existing, of others looking into me and seeing nothing. So I sought to be filled.

I would find something to satisfy. I said. Yes -- some things. I accumulated big things, pretty things, important things. I placed them things inside, and one after another they disappeared, swallowed by that vacant void. Well, then, pleasure would satisfy me.

I felt full -- of bright colors and bright thoughts. High and happy. But how the emptiness ached as the brightness dimmed.

A cause -- that would do it! A meaningful purpose -- to help mankind, to alleviate suffering and sorrow. Eagerly I dropped my cause into that enormous nothing within me. Tink, tink, tink. It bounced around inside and echoed in the emptiness.

What about religion? That should add a significant dimension to my life. I wrapped myself in righteousness, certain of finding fulfillment. But my holiness was as hollow as I was. I despaired. Would I be forever empty and lonely, always searching and never satisfied?

But wait, another person. What better way to be fulfilled. A person to love and to share with and to be one with. How beautiful! But that person was as void as I, and emptiness added to emptiness made only more emptiness.

Then I met a Man. He said He could satisfy my hunger and quench my thirst.

I took Him and placed Him in the void. And He fit. He filled me -- with love, joy, peace, purpose, Himself.

He filled me so full I have overflowed, splashing love, joy, peace, purpose into every emptiness I encounter.

Baha'i to hold meetings discussing human affairs

During the next few weeks, members of the Baha'i Faith in this area will stage a series of public meetings at the Kinsmen Community Centre at 145 Larose Drive. The theme of these meetings is "A New Perspective" and it is hoped they will bring to people's attention the existence of the Baha'i approach to human affairs.

The Baha'i Faith principle of an unfettered search after truth, condemns all forms of superstition and prejudice and teaches that the fundamental purpose of religion is to promote concord and harmony. It holds that religion must go hand-in-hand with science, and that it constitutes the sole basis for a peaceful and ordered progressive society. It inculcates the principle of equal opportunity rights and privileges for both sexes, advocates compulsory education, abolishes extremes of poverty and wealth and exalts work performed in the spirit of service to the rank of worship. The Baha'i Faith recommends the adoption of an auxiliary universal language, and provides the necessary agencies for the establishment and safeguarding of a permanent and universal peace.

The meetings here will be held on Fridays at 8 p.m. on March 18 and 25, April 1, 15 and 22. The topics will be Economics in the New World, Completely Modern Marriages, Alternatives to Drugs, The Role of Parents in Educating Children and will wind up on April 22 with a Youth Open House.

The founder of Baha'i, Baha'u'llah, asserts that his message is a revelation direct from God. He claims that all true religions come from the same Divine Source, that all the prophets of God proclaim the Word of God, and that religious truth is continuous and relative, not final and absolute.

CGIT to conduct worship service

The St. Albert C.G.I.T., although only months old has taken on a rather large job for a group of teen-age girls. They are taking the service of worship at St. Albert United Church next Sunday while Minister Len Musto is away.

However they have enlisted some help from some other young people in St. Albert. The girls asked the

P.I.T.C.H. singers and musicians and their leader, Father Duchesneau of St. Albert Roman Catholic Church, to participate in the service. "Sure we will, said Pitch," and that group will set up their sound equipment in the United Church on Saturday evening.

Reverend Musto told the girls "do what you want to do" said CGIT Leader Diana Ward, and that's what they are doing.

The congregation for example will see a somewhat unusual visual presentation when balloons are tossed out among them during the service to illustrate differing reactions to messages from God.

Some people accept them. Some people knock them away. Some people pass them along.

The girls have also invited Ruth Scott, CGIT superintendent from Pilgrim United Church. Ruth will have a short message on the history of the Canadian Girls In Training, which began in 1915, the importance of such a group, and why it is still important today.

A short service to recognize the CGIT group's initiation and to install officers will form part of the service.

Generals double score on Hinton - advance to division finals

St. Albert Standard Generals scored a convincing 8-4 win over the visiting North-west Cardinals Sunday afternoon in the seventh and deciding game and now will advance to the west division finals of the Alberta Junior "B" Hockey League.

Barrhead Jr. Elks and Edson Arrows are playing in the other west series with Edson leading three games to one. This series is expected to be over sometime this week.

In other league playoff action, Wainwright Bisons won their best of seven series with St. Paul Canadiens, four games to one, and are now waiting for the winner of the Lloydminster-Vermilion series which is all tied up at three games apiece.

The two division winners will meet each other in a best of five series.

Sunday's game with Hinton was almost not played as the league earlier in the day tried to cancel out the Generals 5-4 overtime win in Hinton due to an uncared referee working the game.

General Coach John Ewen would not go along with the league's ruling as it would have meant that the seventh game would have to go back to Hinton, whereas the team was legally entitled to that game, due to finishing higher in the league standings than Hinton did. After a lot of arguing on both sides it was decided the game would be played as the seventh and deciding game with the winner taking all the marbles.

The person in charge of assigning officials for the series should be reprimanded for allowing an uncared official to work the playoff games, as well as the 11 other league games he worked. Strangely enough the official from all reports is one of the best.

Generals completely dominated Sunday's game for the first two periods. They scored five unanswered goals in the first period and then popped in two more in the second for a 7-0 lead before the Cardinals finally got one by General goalie Ralph Chambers who had an excellent game.

Hinton added three straight third period goals to make the score a little more respectable at 7-4 before Captain Matt Lister scored late in the period to take a little pressure off.

Rookie Blaine Galbraith opened the scoring for St. Albert at 7:41 and just over a minute later Murray McLaren made it 2-0. Generals leading scorer in the playoffs, Jim Grant, scored at 9:17 at which time Cardinal goalie Carey Winkquist pulled himself. Winkquist played for the Generals earlier in the year. Steve Foreman and Dave Shipanoff closed out the first period scoring, and for all intents and purposes it was all over for the Hinton squad at this point.

JIM GRANT

Geoff Holden and Grant scored midway through the second to make it 7-0 before Hinton's top scorer Aaron Galbraith scored with less than a minute left in the period. Lloyd Olson, B. Arlidge and R. Riva Cambrin scored for Hinton midway through the final period to give the Cardinal fans at least something to cheer about until Matt Lister's goal at 17:41.

St. Albert were outshot 30 to 26 as Chambers came up with a couple of outstanding saves early in the game to keep Hinton off the score-sheet.

Referee Al Stohl handed out 15 penalties including five minute fighting and game misconducts to General's Roger (Tiger) Meunier and Cardinal's K. Williams as they were the aggressors in separate fights.

Generals will now have at least a week delay before their series final with either Edson or Barrhead.

Barons face Camrose in league final

On Saturday, March 5 the St. Albert Sportshop Barons took on the Fort Saskatchewan J & M Midgets in the first game of a best of three for the North Central Midget Hockey League North Division playoff title.

In regular league play the Barons had split two wins and two losses with the Fort Saskatchewan club, thus setting the scene for a dramatic playoff. But all of that was forgotten once referee Ray MacDonald dropped the puck as St. Albert blew Fort Saskatchewan out of the St. Albert Arena with a solid 18-5 hammering of the visitors.

It was one of those nights when nothing St. Albert did went wrong and quite the reverse for Fort Saskatchewan.

St. Albert Sportshop Barons held period leads of 5-1, 9-2 and finally 18-5.

Goal scorers for St. Albert were Breen Neeser 3, Wayne Van Brabant 3, Rick Kreway 2, Bernie Joyal 2, Brian Hermanutz 2, Dave Kreway, Dave Fraser, Pete Tworek, Larry McGillis, Ken Young and Pat Quaghebeur.

TRAVEL TO FORT

St. Albert with a 1-0 lead went to Fort Saskatchewan on Sunday, March 13 to play the second game of the best of three.

But the Fort team surprised St. Albert in the first period by taking a 2-1 lead.

The St. Albert boys finally got going in the middle frame and pulled ahead 4-3 after 40 minutes.

The third period was a really tight seesaw battle, with each team working the opposition's goalie many times, with some excellent chances by both sides.

Finally St. Albert scored what proved to be the winner at 17:43 on a beautifully placed low drive by Ken Young to cap the game and series for the Barons in two straight games.

Goal scorers for St. Albert were Brian Hermanutz 3, Paddy O'Neill and hard working Garnet Clark.

The Sportshop Barons now go onto the league final with South Division champs Camrose Nordics.

The first game of the best of three final goes Wednesday, March 16 at 8 p.m. in Camrose and the second game in St. Albert Friday, March 25 at 7:30 in the arena.

Shaver 'A' & 'B' championship games this Sunday

The Kinsmen Minor Hockey Shaver "A" and "B" championship games will be played this Sunday afternoon at the St. Albert Arena to decide the two winners.

The Shaver B game between the St. Albert Canucks and the Boston Pizza will go at 3:45 p.m. while at 5:15 it will be the Grandin Bakery Bruins taking on the Breakfast Club Lions in the A championship game.

Individual player trophies will also be given out by division head Ken Zawalacut following each game.

Matthew Peskewis of the Bruins was the top Shaver A scorer with 13 goals and 5 assists for 18 points while Patrick Byrne of Boston Pizza was the top B scorer with 14 points on 10 goals and 4 assists.

In the goaltending department Todd Shaw of the Lions allowed only eight goals in five games to win the A trophy while the B trophy went to Darren Hogan of the Canucks as he allowed only six goals in the seven playoff games.

Fans are asked to come out and watch St. Albert's "stars of the future" and their is no doubt action will be plenty full.

Three St. Albert teams reach Provincial finals

St. Albert will be well represented in the Alberta Provincial "A" final this hockey season as the peewees, bantams and midgets all advanced to the finals this past week. Our only team not to make the finals was the juveniles, who lost a close series to Stony Plain by 5-3 and 3-2 scores.

The Nu-West Canadians coached by Al Laplante and Ed Rusnak won their two game series over Leduc by scores of 5-4 and 8-1 to advance to the provincial finals in Medicine Hat.

The K of C Sabres under coaches Maurice Chabot and Craig Neeser scored 10-2 and 8-7 wins over Leduc and will now play in the provincial finals in Red Deer.

The Sportshop Barons midget team coached by Jeff Armstrong also took out a team from Spruce Grove by a 19-3 two-game total-point score, and will travel to Lloydminster for their provincial finals.

The Kinsmen Minor Hockey Association would like to congratulate all teams for their accomplishments and hope they can come back with their respective championships.

This year, the girls won four tournaments: Drayton Valley, St. Paul, Ponoka, Salisbury and they placed second in the Paul Kane-St. Albert High Invitational Tournament. The playoffs saw them capture the Conference title and the Zone championship leading to this weekend's Provincial Tournament. Their record is impressive, 29 wins, 5 losses. Juveniles lose Provincials

The Neil Flynn Esso Truckers were upset 5-3 Friday night in Stony Plain, and 3-2 in St. Albert Saturday by the greatly improved Pats and lost the two-game total point series 8 goals to 5.

Pats will now advance to the Provincial finals in Red Deer at the end of the month.

Saturday night's game in St. Albert was played before a good crowd and the fans were treated to excellent hockey action and some very good goaltending by both Glen McKee of the Truckers and Grant Fuhr of Stony Plain.

Fuhr was no doubt the difference in the game as he was tested time and time again while allowing only two Trucker goals.

Mark Harmon and Mark Kanik scored for the Truckers who just couldn't make up the two-goal difference in the series. The Pats third goal of the game was scored into an empty net.

Much of the Truckers problems came as a result of some very stupid and unnecessary penalties as they took eight of 11 penalties called by referee Bob Lorimer. Their leading scorer, Real Huot, was not at the game due to other commitments.

JUVENILES FORCED TO FORFEIT SERIES

In Hi-way 14 league play-off action the Truckers were dealt another bad decision from the league. They were forced to forfeit their semifinal series with Sherwood Park Jets due to lack of ice in St. Albert, as the second game of the best of three series could not be played. Jets won the opening game 5-4, with the second game scheduled for St. Albert Saturday night, but Sherwood Park could not come here, (as they were in the provincials against Lloydminster the same night) and the game was cancelled. As we could not get anymore ice in St. Albert the series was awarded to Sherwood Park by league commissioner Claude Royer in a move that was typical of his use of authority all season.

Should the Kinsmen decide to have juvenile hockey next year it would be adviseable to look for another league that is a little more organized.

Ballentine wins Calahoo show-down

The first of what is hoped to become an annual Calahoo hockey show-down, such as seen on Saturday Night Hockey Night in Canada, was held Saturday night with Scorpion star Scott Ballentine winning the crowd-pleasing event with a narrow victory over team-mate Dave Grice.

Both players were valued members of the St. Albert Standard Generals last year and have fitted in very well with the Calahoo team.

Some 40 players from various teams in Calahoo participated in the obstacle course and shooting events and some excellent sharp-shooting was shown by various players.

Scorpion goalie Wally Wencek was a busy man all night as he was the only goalie and faced all the local sharpshooters.

Ballentine, besides winning a nice trophy, also took home some cash put up by all contestants.

Finding Spring Bass

Bass are tough enough to find anytime, but in Spring a number of things occur which make it even more difficult to locate these popular gamefish.

The ability to learn where the fish are, and what they are feeding upon, requires an understanding of what occurs to their habitat.

The best way to learn this, say the fishing experts at Mercury outboards, is to observe what is happening to the body of water you intend to fish.

Among the factors which affect Spring bass fishing are water level, water temperature and the presence of natural foods where they have been absent during winter.

Many lakes experience a rising water level after a winter drawdown situation. Remember that when a lake rises in Spring, bass will move from their restricted winter holding spots and scatter out over a wide area in search of food.

You've got to fish a lot of water to locate them, and if the lake level continues to fluctuate the fish won't stay in any one place too long.

The sun, Spring rains and snowmelt combine to change the water temperature in early months. And at times where there is warm water one day, it can be cold the next. So some idea of water temperatures in different areas is helpful in locating bass. Their most active feeding occurs in water between 50 and 70 degrees.

As Spring arrives, and water temperatures change, the types of food available become numerous. Crayfish, both aquatic and airborne insects, and small gamefish now become an important part of a bass' diet.

Sportshop Barons take Zone 3

In provincial playoffs the St. Albert Sportshop Barons advanced to the Midget "A" Provincial Tournament in Lloydminster April 1, 2 and 3 with a convincing 19-3 two-game total-goal series. They were victorious over Spruce Grove Legionnaires.

The first game was played February 28 in Spruce Grove with the Barons winning 7-1 with Todd Murray in the pipes.

Goal scorers were Wayne Van Brabant 3, Brian Hermanutz 2, Ken Young and Assistant Captain Breen Neeser.

The second game was played in St. Albert on Monday, March 7. With St. Albert pounding the Spruce Grove Club 12-2 while outshooting them 83-26, Scott Gannon went the length in the nets for the Barons only allowing two goals.

Goal scorers in the second game were Breen Neeser 2, Brian Hermanutz 2, Bernie Joyal 2, Paddy O'Neill 2, Pat Quaghebeur 2, Ken Young and Murray Riddell.

The Barons won the right to represent Zone 3 in Provincial tournament. At the end of the game Zone Chairman Tom Hutton presented team captain Murray Riddell with the Zone trophy, emblematic of midget prowess in their Zone.

St. Albert faces Red Deer in the first game of the tournament at 1:00 on April 1 in Lloydminster. So wish us luck!

man, 16, of Thorn-
Ontario, has been Angler of the Year
by the Garcia Canadian Fishing Hall of Fame.

He was trolling Georgian Bay in a small boat when a monstrous muskellunge walloped the Rapala plug on his 16-pound line. An hour-long battle ensued before Bridgeman could boat the 52-inch 45-pound behemoth. One judge aptly described the young angler as "smart, tough and alone."

Ralph Dempsey, CFB Shilo, with a near-record Lake William rainbow, was Manitoba's nominee. Saskatchewan's entries were Hudson Bay angler Dale Parker, who hooked a 17-pound 9-ounce rainbow in Piprell Lake; and Walter Sawicki of Melfort, who fought a 30-pound Wapata Lake pike to net.

Alberta was ably represented by Cameron MacGregor 14, of Red Deer. His record-smashing 21 inch catch - a three pound 10 ounce perch, was caught in Sylvan Lake.

Nova Scotians honored are: Dr. G. L. Silvers, who bested a 28-pound 2-ounce Atlantic salmon on an eight pound tippet; Ralph Tuttle, who tailed seven weighing from 16 to 26½ pounds; and 16 year old Norman Balcom, who landed a tremendous 46½ pound striped bass!

Also honored was Ontario angler Rad Weaver, who copped two salmon derbies with a 22-pound 3-ounce chinook and a 13¼-pound coho.

British Columbia's front four are: Tom Kelly, who nailed a 55½-pound chinook; Clue Milton, who took a 58-pound tyee; Robert Taylor who shipped a 22-pound steelhead on fly and light leader; and Don Erickson, who not only established a B.C. contest mark with a steelhead just two ounces shy of 27 pounds, but also outplayed an 11½ pounder on a tippet testing a mere three pounds!

next Saturday night at 8:30 p.m., and if the Comets play as sloppy as they did in the opener, the game will probably end up in a victory for the Rebels.

Rebels are riddled with injuries and only dressed 10 players, of which two were goaltenders. Rebels have eight players on the sidelines which was fortunate for the Comets who played without a doubt their worst game of the season.

St. Albert got on the scoreboard first on a slapshot from the point by Blaine Georgy at 7:56 of the first period, but then played some very sloppy hockey in both ends of the rink, allowing the Rebels to score a pair of goals before the first period was over.

Ex-Comet John Koyezan scored on a deflection at 10:16 that Comet goalie Dale Henwood had no chance on and two minutes later Bill Stevens made it 2-1 for the Rebels.

Comets appeared to be putting it all together early in the second as they came up with a pair of goals in the first three minutes of play. Bob Foote took a perfect pass from Doug Currie and banged it home at 1:23, and then at 3:10 defenseman Rich Perrault scored on a slapshot from the slot to give the Comets a 3-2 lead.

Dave Vinge scored on a good passing play with Barry Medori and Blaine Georgy at 16:03 to give St. Albert a 4-2 lead.

Comets went to sleep again in the third period and before they woke up Koyezan had scored two goals to even the score at 4-4. Koyezan's second goal was the prettiest of the night as he picked up a stray pass and deked Henwood out of his shorts before slipping the puck into the net.

Currie's goal late in the period gave the Comets the 5-4 win and a one-goal advantage going into the second game in Drayton Valley.

Rebel Coach Art Assman was very pleased with his team's performance and feels if his club plays as well at home as they did in St. Albert, they could pull out a win.

Comet Coach Kerry Ketter didn't dress for the game but after seeing some of his player's performances there is no doubt he will suit up for the second game.

The winner of this series will go on to play the winners of Irma and Edmonton Spedies.

TAKE LEAD IN MAJOR PLAYOFFS

In Albert Major Intermediate Hockey League playoffs Comets lost the second game of the best of five series with Camrose in Camrose 4-2 last Tuesday but on Friday in St. Albert they turned it on and won 11-4 to take a 2-1 series lead.

The fourth game will be played in Camrose Thursday night, and if the Comets win they will advance into the league final. Should they lose the fifth game will be played in St. Albert at a date which has not been set as yet.

Friday night's win over Camrose saw defenseman Rich Perrault score three goals to lead the Comets. Brian Georgy added a pair while singles went to Perry Pearn, Bob Foote, Dan Towpich, Blaine Georgy and Doug Currie.

Comets annual banquet and awards night is set for April 2nd at the Club Mocombo and tickets are available from any of the players or the St. Albert Sportshop and Hutchings Shoes.

Nu-West advance to Provincial finals

For the second time in as many contests, it took the St. Albert Peewee BB Nu-West Canadians two periods of play to realize that they were in a hockey game and that the Leduc Elks were not the pushovers they had once been throughout the regular season of play. The nailbiter ended 5-4 in favour of St. Albert, who came from behind a 4-2 deficit to click for three unanswered goals in the third period.

Establishing an aggressive offensive attack from the outset and demonstrating improved playmaking abilities, Leduc had their hometown fans ecstatic for two frames as they outthrust and outscored their visitors with sheer fortitude and an ingredient called desire. Although outshot 32-20, the Elks had their opposition confused for most of the game and came within a whisker of upsetting the heavily favoured Canadians in the first of a two game total goal series.

Danny Holliday's insatiable appetite and passion for interruption was one of the few bright spots dressed in a St. Albert uniform as his whirling dervish style of play constantly preoccupied the Leduc skaters who were shaking their heads in astonishment and keeping them up for health considerations. Holliday's efforts were rewarded early in the game as he literally outmuscled two opponents and carried a third on his back to score one of the prettiest goals of the 1977 campaign and one which may have been stolen from Bobby Hull's notebook.

Mitch Poulin came through once again for Nu-West as his knack of finding the net accounted for three goals. Danny Laplante scored the winning marker with 1:56 left on the clock.

Drawing assists for the Canadians were Aaron Banks with three, Mark Slessor with two, and one apiece to Dean Clark, Craig Rusnak, Gordie Filipchuk and John Holden.

Nu-West were levied 11 penalties by the officials against five infractions for Leduc.

NU-WEST 8 LEDUC 1

A rejuvenated and different hockey club stepped onto the ice at the St. Albert Arena Monday evening although the jerseys and the numbers were the same. The official lineup confirmed that the team was the Nu-West Canadian Peewee BBs and that these were the same boys who appeared lethargic and lacking team spirit of late, however, they each skated for a full shift, full out, and convincingly defeated the Leduc Elks by a score of 8-1. A pre-game pep talk by coaches Al Laplante and Ed Rusnak apparently hit home.

Billy Havens in goal for Nu-West was tested on only 10 occasions while Clay Chukery had his hands full while blocking 31 attempts. These statistics tell the story and full marks must be given to the Canadians for their offensive and defensive efforts.

The game was certainly not a masterpiece for anyone seeking positional or playmaking perfection, however, Nu-West were a much improved hockey team this particular evening and came out at the bell as a team, ready to play.

Mitch Poulin led the attack with three goals with singles going to Dean Clark, Danny Holliday, Aaron Banks, Miles Spencer, and Blaine Weller.

Assists were numerous but a big assist goes to each member of the St. Albert Peewee BB Nu-West Canadians their coaches and

K of C Sabres Bantams go to Provincial finals

The St. Albert K of C Sabres Bantams gained a berth in the Provincial finals by outscoring the Leduc Blades by 8-7. The Sabres had previously defeated the Blades last week 10-2, giving the Sabres the two-game total-goal series by a combined total of 18-9. The Sabres will now compete in the Provincial finals being held this year in Red Deer on March 25, 26 and 27.

The Sabres managed their victory despite the fact that Brad Scott, Cameron Swist and Kurt Bokenfohr were out due to injuries and illness.

Keith Heyburn opened the scoring on a pass from Ken Myck and Sonny Gramlich. Leduc came back to score at the 14 minute mark only to have Sabre Troy Murray score seconds later on a pass from Dave Muskens and Ross McRae, putting the Sabres ahead 2-1.

Leduc tied up the game early in the second period, but St. Albert came on strong with a goal by Keith Heyburn from Ken Myck and Sonny Gramlich. Dennis Sabourin followed suit on relays from Troy Murray and Shane Antoniuk. Then Sonny Gramlich made it 5-2 on a pass from Keith Heyburn. Newcomer Dave Musken scored another after Troy Murray put him in the clear, and Leduc replied with a goal, leaving the Sabres with a 6-3 lead.

The third period found Leduc on the offensive, however, when the Blades scored four unanswered goals in the first 10 minutes, putting them ahead 7-6. Then Troy Murray tied it up with the help of Gary Kunz. With two minutes remaining, Keith Heyburn chalked up the winner from Sonny Gramlich.

The Sabres outshot the Leduc squad by a 50-34 count, and each team took nine penalties during the contest. The Sabres will play the winners of the Fort Saskatchewan Flyers-Red Deer Moose Chiefs series.

St. Albert Shavers win tournament

St. Albert should be very proud of a group of young hockey players who recently won the Morinville Shaver A tournament. The Bruins, on their way to a 24 win, 2 loss and 3 tie season, defeated Gibbons 3-0, Morinville 11-0, and Bon Accord 7-0 for the trophy.

St. Albert was led by Matthew Peskewis' 14 points, the excellent goaltending of Michael Fekete, and a hard working total team effort.

Morinville should be congratulated on a very well run tournament and it is hoped that St. Albert will seriously consider sponsoring a similar affair next year!

Oilers falling out of playoff action

After playing five road games in six nights last week, the Oilers emerged with a win, a tie and three losses. This coming week sees Edmonton play only two games, one home and one away against the Winnipeg Jets.

The Oilers' first two games last week were played in Houston on March 8 and Cincinnati on March 9, and ended with the home clubs winning by identical 5-3 scores. The third game in as many nights was in Indianapolis, where Edmonton beat the Racers 4-3 before taking a day off to travel to Quebec City. Saturday night's 3-3 tie with the Nordiques was the Oilers' last scheduled game with the Eastern Division leaders, and left Edmonton with a 3-2-1 record against the Quebec Colisee, with two wins and a tie, and outscored the Nordiques 24-22 in the six games played.

After the 70 minute game in Quebec on Saturday night, the Oilers had to get out of bed at 5 a.m. to catch a plane and travel most of Sunday to meet the Jets in Winnipeg that evening. The 9-3 victory by Winnipeg reflected not only the weariness of the Oilers, but also the tremendous scoring power of the rejuvenated Jets. Bobby Hull, Ulf Nilsson and Anders Hedberg are back in the lineup, and bolstered by the addition of Danny Lawson and Fran Huck, the Jets look very strong in their bid to repeat as Avco Cup Champions again this season.

Bill "Cowboy" Flett leads the Oilers in goal scoring, and has had the hottest hand in the WHA of late. Since coming to Edmonton from the Atlanta Flames in mid-December, Flett has accumulated 41 points in 37 games. The colorful right winger has 24 goals in this period, and has scored 16 times and assisted on 10 others in his last 18 games.

Since general manager Bep Guidolin named Glen Sather coach of the Oilers, the team has a 3-3-1 record, with five of the seven games occurring on the road. Edmonton has six away games left and five at home, with four of their last five scheduled games slated for the Edmonton Coliseum. The Oilers' next three games, all against the Winnipeg Jets, are of primary importance, but the result of the home and home series with Calgary on April 1st and 2nd could well determine which of the two clubs goes on to post season play.

Long time Curling Club member transfers to Regina

The St. Albert Curling Club will honour Armand Donais at a farewell party in the rink lounge, to which all curlers and friends are welcome. Mr. Donais has been transferred to Regina as BACM's general manager for the Saskatchewan area.

Armand is an honorary life member of the curling club, having attained the distinction in 1969. He served as president for five years from 1962 to 1967 at which time he was very active, being largely responsible for the club being in the excellent position it now finds itself in.

During his term, Armand assisted the club through difficult financial times, ensuring the clubs continued operations, negotiating the purchase of an artificial ice plant plus selling debentures for the building of the original lounge.

Armand has been active in the Northern Alberta Curling Association, representing the club up to the present date.

He is a keen competitor who will be missed by his many curling friends in St. Albert and surrounding areas.

Calahoo Bantams win championship

The Calahoo Bantams hockey team coached by Tom Fowler recently won the Parkland Bantam Hockey League championship going undefeated in four round-robin playoff games.

Calahoo tied Stony Plain 5-5 in the opening game and then scored an easy 7-2 win over Calmar to advance into the semi finals against Stony Plain who had earlier upset Calmar.

The result of the game was a 4-4 tie as both teams were evenly matched.

In the final game Calahoo shutout Calmar 2-0 on goals by Don Fowler and Troy Zosche while Grant Berube played an excellent game in goal for the shut-out. Tom Fowler Jr. and Martin Fontaine picked up assists.

Coach Fowler was most pleased with his team's performance especially with the pee-wee line of Troy Zosche, Craig Berube and Lorne Labonte.

The league trophy was not on hand to be presented although league director Dennis Woosley from Stony Plain hopes to have it presented at the Calahoo Sports Association minor hockey wind-up party.

Calahoo are now awaiting the winner of the west division between teams from Evansburg, Warburg, May-erthorpe and Paul Band for the overall Bantam "B" championship.

Calahoo Mites win hockey title

The Calahoo mites hockey team, coached by Greasegun Berube, won the Parkland Mite "B" Hockey League championship last weekend in Calahoo going undefeated in four straight games.

Friday night Kenny Berube scored a pair of goals to lead Calahoo to a 5-1 win over Devon in their first game of the tournament with Dean MacDonald, Trent Berube and Todd Coyes added single goals.

Saturday morning Calahoo came up with another 5-1 win, this time over Onoway as Shawn Brinski, Kenny Berube, Trent Berube, Todd Coyes and Dean MacDonald scored.

The win sent Calahoo into the semi finals against Spruce Grove who were the east division winners and the game was the best of the entire tournament as both clubs provided some excellent end-to-end action with Calahoo coming out on top of a 4-3 win. Trent Berube scored the winning goal in the third period with Dean MacDonald, Kenny Berube and Brent Caton adding the other goals.

The final game of the "A" side saw Calahoo come up with their third 5-1 win of the tournament Sunday as they won the championship game over Warburg. Kenny Berube led the way with his second two-goal performance of the tournament while the other goals were scored by Nolan Horn, Dean MacDonald and Trevor Zosche.

Larne Couture played all four games in goal for Calahoo and made some great saves, especially in the close win over Spruce Grove.

MLA Ernie Jamison was on hand to present the league championship trophy to Captain Dean MacDonald.

Calahoo also went through the league play undefeated in 12 games, and coach Greasegun Berube is very proud of his team's accomplishment.

The tournament was officiated by Cliff Fowler, Emile Berube, Sneaky Berube, Jay McGeough, Eric Quintal, Dave Quintal and all did a very good job.

Calmar scored a 4-3 win over Devon to take the "B" event side.

Dobson Lea to speak at Unifarm Ag Forum

Agricultural producers in the MD of Sturgeon are invited to play a part in determining the future of their industry by attending a Unifarm district forum to be held in the Namao Community Hall on Monday, March 21.

Unifarm, Alberta's largest farm organization, is conducting the information forums across the province during March and April. A summation of input obtained through the series of meetings will be used in guiding the organization in its efforts to advance the cause of the agricultural industry.

Mr. Dobson Lea, president of Unifarm will be present for the meeting that will start at 8 p.m.

Major purpose of the round of district forums is to give a member of the Unifarm executive an opportunity to report first-hand to producers in each district on activities at the provincial and national levels, particularly on progress made toward implementation of policies set by members of the organization.

The forums will also provide the opportunity for people at country points to pose questions or take part in discussions with the senior official in attendance.

Local representatives of commodity groups and co-operatives have also been invited to attend and participate in the meetings which are open to all producers, members of Unifarm and non-members alike.

Mr. Lea will present a general review of how Unifarm operates at the provincial level and in conjunction with the Western Agricultural Conference, the Canadian Federation of Agriculture and other agencies in accomplishing its goals. He will also review policy issues of current concern in terms of progress toward implementation, obstacles encountered and present status.

Opportunity for discussion will be provided throughout the meetings whose prime purpose will be to facilitate a flow of information from producers to those at the executive level who are charged with the responsibility of implementing actions and policy that reflect the wishes of the farm community.

New gravel site to open this Spring

Turbo Resources Limited of Calgary confirms that a high quality sand and gravel deposit, in excess of five million cubic yards, is planned for development this spring. The deposit, suitable for concrete aggregate production, was confirmed after an extensive drilling and test-pit program.

The sand and gravel deposit is located on approximately 350 acres between the communities of Villeneuve and Calahoo in the county of Strathcona.

A company, Northwest Sand and Gravel Ltd., has been incorporated in the province of Alberta with three equal partners, Turbo Resources Limited, MacBeth Construction Ltd., and Raven Construction Ltd. (both of Red Deer) for the purpose of developing the sand and gravel deposit.

Turbo Resources Limited, owner of the property, has granted Northwest Sand and Gravel Ltd., a 10-year lease to develop the property with an option to purchase.

MD disapproves funding future Rec. Centre

Municipal District of Sturgeon council members stated their disapproval Thursday of placing $9,000 of the district's recreation budget into a capital trust fund for the purpose of acquiring a recreational centre sometime in the future.

According to the recreation committee, the combination with municipal and provincial grants to purchase the building.

Council amended the motion to accept the recreation budget in principal by stipulating that the $9,000 would remain in surplus rather than in a capital trust fund. Councillors indicated that funding for such a project

Road bans retained

Municipal District of Sturgeon council has decided to retain heavy truck road bans this year on all oil roads in the district, with exceptions being left to the discretion of the superintendent and reeve. The bans, as in the past, will exclude milk trucks and school buses.

Bans on gravel roads will

Acting on the advice of Councillor Crozier, council has proposed to advertise the road bans before they go into effect, for the benefit of those without the required permits.

What bike-less youngster wouldn't love this two wheeler with training wheels. Carpet sweepers should be popular, children's clothing such as the down filled jacket, a terrarium and toys - all will go under the auctioneer's hammer on Saturday in the Bon Accord Hall. Buyers will have the added satisfaction of knowing the proceeds will help to buy a new ambulance for the district.

Mr. Boddez, vice-principal at Sturgeon Heights School, sniffed many of the concoctions in the science project prepared by Gall Soetaert, Tracy Menzies and Sue Lema. The Science Fair was held March 8.

Big auction Saturday will aid ambulance fund

By Sadie Allen

A birthday coming? An anniversary? Mother's Day? Father's Day? WE have the answer! Are you house-cleaning? or sprucing up the house this spring? WE have an answer for that too, THE ANSWER! -- The Bon Accord-Gibbons Auction in aid of the new ambulance.

On March 19, at 1 p.m. at the Bon Accord Hall a wide variety of items are up for auction. There is a brand new, two-wheeled bike, complete with training wheels, for the younger tot, a riding tractor, or a jolly jumper for the very young. That young miss in your home might be interested in the Barbie Doll, complete with wardrobe.

Who will ride away from the hall on the 1971, 650 B.S.A. motorcycle?

Doesn't your wife deserve to have Lane's Carpet Care relieve her of the chore of cleaning the living room rug? Maybe she will be so grateful she'll look at the Black and Decker 7 1/4" radial arm saw and hide it away for Father's Day.

There is such a variety of items in the auction that the chances are excellent that we have just the item or service you need. This wide variety of items will be on view starting at 10 a.m. on the day of the sale.

What's that you say? "We have everything but the money with which to buy the items" - then there's help. Mike Hartley is donating his services to do one income tax return. Your income tax refund might see you through the auction in fine style.

The concession will be open at 11 a.m. for your convenience.

Gibbons applies for town status

The Village of Gibbons which now has a population of close to 1,250 has applied to the Minister of Municipal Affairs for town status. Mayor Reg Austin has asked that the change be made before the fall elections and under town status Gibbons would have six councillors and a mayor chosen by the voters rather than the present system under which the elected people choose the mayor.

When Gibbons was incorporated as a village in 1959 the population was only about 200.

AUCTION SALES A SPECIALTY
HONESTY OUR POLICY

By Liz McLeod
 The Rural Electrification banquet held in Onoway on February 26 was well attended by Calahoo residents. It was nice to visit with Wilfred and Mary McLean and Wilfred's sister-in-law Mrs. Allan Rachel McLean, who lived in Calahoo in the early years.

In fact, the former Rachel Morrissey, supervised at the Granger School one year and when her mother married Mr. Adamson, Rachel came up from the U.S. to live with her parents, and Rachel and Allan (son of Hugh McLean) were the first couple to be married in the first St. Catherine's Church built in Calahoo.

Mrs. Pete McLeod was taking care of Mr. and Mrs. N. Cowling's children, the McLean's took her to the R.E.A. banquet.

Mrs. Carrie Akerman was pleased to be able to accompany her son and family, Gordon, Janet and Barabara Akerman from Namao for a pleasant ride into the country to visit her daughter Daphne and her husband Myles Kerr and Alex in the Green Willow district of Calahoo, last Sunday.

JANICE KIRKBY SHOWERED

Thirty neighbors, relatives and friends turned out to honor Miss Janice Kirkby, formerly of Westbank, B.C., with a miscellaneous shower at Calahoo.

Blue and white streamers and bells, decorated the Gazebo and on the honored table a beautiful cake, made by Josephine Webber and iced in yellow, was set before the bride-to-be. Seated with Janice were June Verbeek and Mrs. J. Theda Verbeek.

After the many lovely gifts were opened and admired, Janice graciously thanked all for these gifts and for coming and also Audrey Granger, Josephine Webber, Lois Singer, Grace and June Verbeek for making this such a memorable evening.

GOLDENAGERS MET IN THE GAZEBO

There was a large turnout of senior citizens to the February 23 meeting with Mrs. Ruth McCullough and two RN's from the Sturgeon Health Unit visiting.

AURELIA MOORE CELEBRATES 80th

BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Aurelia Moore, formerly of Calahoo, and now in Onoway, got a pleasant surprise on her birthday, February 23, when Mrs. Clara Loyer and this correspondent went to her home, bearing gifts and a decorated birthday cake for this fine lady. Along with her son Charlie we sang Happy Birthday to Aurelia, who made a wish and blew all the candles out. Moses Comeau laid to rest in Riv. Qui Barre

By Liz McLeod

The community of Riviere Qui Barre was saddened by the death of one of its active pioneers and a fine gentleman, in the person of Mr. Mose Comeau, who passed away in the Royal Alexandra Hospital, Edmonton on February 2, 1977 after a five year illness. He was 61 years, 11 1/2 months old.

MOSE COMEAU

Mose was born in Riviere Qui Barre to Francis and Lea Comeau on February 19, 1915 and married Laura Devolder on July 13, 1938. He farmed in Riviere Qui Barre until his health caused him to retire in 1975.

Mose was a community minded man, and active in all sports. He coached ball teams, was a school trustee, a member of the Lions Club, Knights of Columbus and the St. Emerence Roman Catholic Church until ill health caused his resignation five years ago.

Mose is survived by his loving wife Laura; three daughters - Mrs. Ed (Aurelia) Melnyk, Yvonne Comeau, and Mrs. Ed (Jean) Cunningham; three sons - Francis and Roger of Riviere Qui Barre, and Ernie in Edmonton; 17 grandchildren and one sister - Mrs. Homer (Amelia) Devolder, RQB.

The prayers were held on February 3 at 8 p.m. in St.

Emerence Church, RQB, and the funeral at 10:30 a.m. on February 4, with the Rev. Father Roche officiating.

Vera Soetaert played the organ while Cecile Como sang with the choir.

The active pallbearers were Fritz Devolder, Homer Devolder, Frank Robinson, Rod MacMillan, Charlie Perrott and Robert Como.

Interment was in the church cemetery. After the service the ladies of the Parish served lunch in the school gym.

SAVES ENERGY BAKING BREAD

With conservation of energy on the minds of everyone, I would like to tell anyone who bakes their own bread how I conserve on energy. I use the large juice cans (well greased), making the loaves so they fill cans about half full. I bake 10 loaves at a time and could bake 14 or 15 if necessary. Another tip while on the subject of bread, to save on yeast I use only 1 tablespoon to make 10 loaves.

Oldtimer passes away

Friends and relatives were recently saddened by the death of Irma Mary Caron on February 23, aged 87 years.

Born in Thourout, Belgium in 1889, she was the daughter of Pierre Borle and Romani Victor. In 1897, she moved to Canada with her parents, and settled in the Ray District.

In 1913, she married Phillip Caron. They bought a farm south of Riviere Qui Barre where they lived for many years. Two children were born to them: a daughter Phyllis and a son Melvin.

After the death of her husband, Irma remained in the area for 16 years, taking on all the duties of mixed-farming. Finally, in 1961, she moved to Edmonton to live with her children.

Irma suffered a stroke in 1969, which sent her to the St. Joseph's Hospital for four years. She was transferred to the Youville Home in St. Albert, where she remained another four years, until her passing.

Mrs. Caron was a woman of great spirit and will, and outlived her family. She was pre-deceased by her husband in 1945, daughter in 1965, and son in 1970.

She is survived by two brothers, Prudent Borle of Westlock, Cyril Borle of Villeneuve, one sister, Alma Boddez of the Youville Home, a daughter-in-law

Helen, of Vancouver and many grandchildren, nieces and nephews.

Bon Accord pioneer passes

A long time resident of the Bon Accord district. Mrs. Maud Myrtle Kowalski, died in Edmonton on March 10, 1977. Her parents, George and Emma Jane Mulligan and their five eldest children were among the original settlers in the Bon Accord district. Maud, the eldest of the three children born at Bon Accord, was the first non-native baby born in Alberta north of the Sturgeon river.

In 1919 Maud and her husband Peter Kowalski started their married life by taking over her father's farm. The house in which she was born was to be her home for the next 30 years, as she coped with the usual farm chores and their two children Nora and Stanley.

In 1949 the pattern repeated as Peter and Maud moved to Edmonton leaving the operation of the farm to Stanley and his bride Edith. Maud put her new found free time to use cultivating her life long interest in flowers and gardening.

In later years after Peter's death in 1959 she continued her association with the Bon Accord district by attending annual church socials and assisting in the researching and writing of "Leaves of Yesteryear," a history of the Bon Accord district. In 1971 she was granted a life membership in the Northern Alberta Pioneer and Old Timers Association.

She is survived by her sister, Mrs. Ella Gibson, her son Stanley, daughter Nora Knowles, four grandchildren, Kevin and Tami Kowalski, Dale and Cindy Knowles.

Gibbon's only shoemaker was excellent craftsman

By Margarette J. Atkinson
I write this short story about our only shoemaker Gibbons ever had.

I remember the day Mr. and Mrs. McQuest arrived at the town of Gibbons in the very early 1930s.

It was in the afternoon, shortly after the passenger train went up the line. My brothers Jim, Charlie, Russell and John Bass and myself were walking down the road near the John Williams farm, which is located about a mile east of Gibbons.

Suddenly a large covered wagon came into sight. Behind the wagon tied onto the back was a small black wood burning cook stove. Following the wagon, were two cows, a calf and an extra horse.

High on the wagon, sat a very tall slim man. Beside him sat a very dainty, small little woman, with a very fair, gentle looking face.

Of course the excitement was so great. I remember turning to follow that wagon.

They must have made arrangements beforehand, about their destination. However, they turned in at a barbed wire gate, leading into a trail through the bush, just east of the Williams place on the south side of the road. In that bush stood a small, but very snug cabin.

I remained as Mr. John McQuest unhitched his team after lifting his tiny wife down to the soft grass.

It was a beautiful day. I introduced myself politely and wished to help Mrs. McQuest settle in. The green leaves of the tall poplars, caused a cool, dappled shade around the cabin.

Soon they settled down, in that cabin, which I very often visited after that. It became very homey, with geraniums blossoming in the tiny windows and on the crude wood-table, over which was spread a pretty hand-embroidered tablecloth.

In a later time, Mr. McQuest found another place in the town of Gibbons.

OPENED SHOP

It was there he started his shoe and leather repairing shop. They had their living quarters in that shop as well. The back rooms, very cosily decorated by the tiny, quiet spoken, gentle English lady, Mrs. McQuest.

They lived at Gibbons many years after that, becoming involved in the many things happening around the community. But a better shoe and leather repairman could not be found to equal the talent, Mr. McQuest had.

Thanks to his deft, strong fingers, many a boot became worthy again, to serve long and useful purposes. Chaps, worn by lads who had to ride horseback through the bushes at times, got a tear in the tough leather. These, too were mended, as well as the leather bridles for horses, finer footwear of families, ladies high-heeled dancing shoes and small children's shoes, all were repaired on Mr. McQuest's last.

I remember having torn one of my best, patent leather Sunday School slippers accidentally. My tears were quickly dried, as with a wink and a twitch of his mustache, my shoe was quickly put to rights again. As I offered my dime, he smiled and said, "some day you can buy me an ice cream cone."

There was no electricity in that "shoe repair" shop. He must have worked very hard and very late, with the light of his coal oil lamps only, to do the fine stitching in the leather work.

Both Mr. and Mrs. McQuest spent their remaining life at Gibbons.

The tall, strong shoemaker was the only shoemaker Gibbons ever had. With the passing of John McQuest, and his gentle, little wife, an era had passed, but never the memories of them.

Large building supply firm opens in Morinville

By Marg Bentz
Westland Building Supplies Ltd., will be having their grand opening on March 17, 18 and 19. The building is located on Highway 642, next to the Morinville Auction Mart, on a three acre site.

Construction began in October, 1976 and warehouse facilities (48 x 60 ft.) were completed by mid-November. Sales area of 1040 sq. ft. is only a temporary facility. The three acre site carries one and two inch dimensional lumber in fir and spruce, spruce and fir plywoods, asphalt shingles, gyproc, cellulose fibreglass insulation, fir and mahogany moldings, fir and mahogany doors, wall panelling, ceiling tiles, metal roofing, pre-fab garages, and other materials.

The interior of Westland is attractively decorated and offers a complete line. Builder's hardware, plumbing supplies, electrical supplies, light fixtures, a full line of paint and Olympic stains, are carried, along with wallpaper, floor coverings, ceramic tiles, power and hand tools.

Atco kitchen cabinets, Willmar windows, Lowen windows and Glenway windows are handled as well as interior and exterior Featurite, and all the other requirements for the do-it-yourself handyman. Cost estimating will be given on custom built homes, garages, and farm buildings.

The owners, Richard and Larry Hesse and Larry and Len Jubinville felt that the district required a retail building supply and thus Westland was formed. They hope to serve all the building needs of the community and district. Mr. Art Hebert will be yardman and in charge of delivery.

Manager Richard Hesse has been in the building supply business since September of 1957 and brings a wealth of knowledge to the business. Richard will be moving his family (Rose and sons Daren 10 and Darrell 7) to Morinville from Vegreville in July. Rose is currently teaching beauty culture at the Vegreville Composite High School.

Larry Hesse, owner of G & L Electric, and Len and Larry Jubinville of Len-Mor Construction, also bring their valuable knowledge to Westland Building Supplies Ltd. Drop on down during the grand opening and see all that Westland has to offer.

Thursday night team captain O'Neil Chevalier was the only bright spot as he vainly tried to spark the Motor Machine, when he scored at 13:24 of the third period to bring Morinville within reach, the score at that time being 2-1, Gibbons, however, Seniors couldn't bring it off and eventually lost 4-1. Garry Kieser fired a pair, Jack Veensra and Lloyd Christie picked up the other two Gibbons goals, while it was Carl Royan and Dex Dersch assisting on Morinville's lone marker.

LOSE TO BARRHEAD 5-3

Friday night Morinville continued their slump, when despite the heroics of Rick Pugliese who scored two goals (one in the first and one in the third) and Richard Wright who assisted on all three Morinville goals, Motor Men lost to the highly touted Barrhead Arrows 5-3. Norm Bohl got Senior's second stanza counter assists went to Marcel Tourangeau and O'Neil Chevalier. Period scores were 1-1, 2-2 and of course 5-3.

Sunday at Barrhead, Seniors came from behind to take the game 6-5, when Rick Pugliese again notched a pair as did Dex Dersch. Singles went to O'Neil Chevalier and Allan Bentz. The hard fought contest cost Morinville the services of Marcel Tourangeau and Jack MacAskill. Both were injured and may be lost to Morinville the remainder of the season. Congratulations are in order to Morinville Motors for representing us so well in Provincial C playoffs (second in our zone) and our best wishes in their league finals against Gibbons. Seniors will travel to Gibbons for the next two games (Friday and Sunday), then will return to Morinville for one game, (Tuesday) and back Gibbons if necessary on Friday.

Mr. John Curilla, co-ordinator of Science for St. Albert School District #6, Laura Sheehan, Sandra Cunningham and Dr. Richard Jones of the U of A Medical School discussed the girls' science project during the judging last Tuesday, March 8.

Legal High School News

By Lorraine Champagne School Reporter

Hello! Have we got good news for you! The Legal Students' Union has two teen dances coming up - one on March 26, when "Fifth Avenue All Stars" will be featured, and another dance on April 30, when "Hal" will be featured. Prices for both will be the same - $3.50 per person or $6 a couple. "Fifth Avenue All Stars" is a combination of players from great groups such as "Powerglide," "Witness" and "Great Canadian River Race." The All Stars played recently at Convention Inn West - they were terrific. So don't forget to come and boogie with us - March 26 and April 30 in the Legal Community Hall.

Since there wasn't enough snow in Edson for the March 4 ski trip, another has been scheduled. It will be held in Jasper, April 1, 2 and 3.

The Legal students are busy participating in projects to raise money for Peace and Development. So far we have had a Soup Day and a Popcorn sale. Further projects include a bake sale - March 26 at Legal Co-op; a walk-a-thon; a bingo; an auction and possibly a weight-a-thon. Please come out to the Co-op to buy delicious cakes, cookies, and squares. A cake will be raffled. The funds are going toward a very worthy cause.

A senior encounter for all grade 12 students will be held at the Bishop's Residence in St. Paul. It will be held at the beginning of May. The theme is Graduating Into Life. His Excellency Bishop Roy will be our moderator. Following our return, the students and parents will participate in a social evening at the school. We feel that this encounter will prove to be a great experience.

The French Association for Young People (Francophonie Jeunesse de l'Alberta) will be hosting a rally at Camp He Ho Ha, 50 miles west of Edmonton on April 1, 2 and 3. This will be a unique occasion to meet French-Canadian young people from all over the province. The young people will participate in workshops such as leadership, journalism, radio, film, television, theatre, music, dance and arts and crafts.

On behalf of the Legal students, I would like to extend warm get well wishes to our school principal, Mr. Raymond Tremblay, who was hospitalized recently. We wish you a speedy recovery.

Tuesday, March 8, Lucy deChamplain and Lorraine Champagne became the proud "parents" of 10 fluffy peeping "problems." These chicken eggs incubated 21 days earlier, began hatching Monday night. There were no complications in the delivery room except that someone forgot the cigars! I guess it's apparent we're a parent ...

Legal residents want artificial ice

Let's face it ... Natural ice for both curling, hockey, and skating has proved unsuccessful for the past three years. Legal residents ... how many times have you and your children skated or curled in the last three years??

As you know, a special committee of the Recreation Board has been formed and is looking into the construction of a curling rink and artificial ice.

The Legal Curling and Ice Committee has met with engineers, consultants and several contractors in order to present the Recreation Board and Town Council with the most suitable and practical facility plan for the residents of Legal and the surrounding area.

Now is our chance!! Be prepared to support the construction of these facilities.

When in Egypt Colleen and Al Thompson pose for a picture on what appears to be a big shot in the camel colony, judging by the very uppy expression. The couple took hundreds of slides while on a 14-month journey around the eastern world which they reduced to manageable size for a presentation to the Namao community last Friday evening in Namao United Church. Colleen is the daughter of Clay and Jean Crozier.

DO STEEP STAIRS MATTER?

That's for you to decide. Perhaps you practically fly upstairs. Maybe you huff and puff.

Stairs -- plus layout, number of bathrooms, traffic pattern, and plot situation -- are questions we take into account when we try to find a home that spells your brand of convenience.

We handle ranches, splits, and multi-story homes. Let us help you find the one that's liveable for you!
